

Evolution

Evolution is the process by which species adapt over time in response to their changing environment.

Adaptations are important because they help animals and humans to survive in the conditions they live in.

Our evidence of evolution comes from fossils. Fossils are preserved remains of organisms that lived millions of years ago.

Evolution happens due to natural selection. This is where a species will have variation so for example goats may have had some with long horns and others with smaller horns, the better adapted to the environment will survive whilst the less well-adapted die before they have offspring. This is survival of the fittest. The offspring produced will have most likely inherited the more useful genes -the long horns- and so it will carry on throughout the generations. Over time these changes result in evolution.

Charles Darwin and Lamarck

Charles Darwin was a British naturalist who proposed the theory of biological evolution by natural selection. Darwin defined evolution as "descent with modification," the idea that species change over time, give rise to new species, and share a common ancestor.

What is the difference between Lamarck's and Darwin's theory?

Their theories are different because Lamarck thought that organisms changed out of need and after a change in the environment and Darwin thought organisms changed by chance when they were born and before there was a change in the environment.

Lamarck's theory involved two ideas:

- a characteristic which is used more and more by an organism becomes bigger and stronger, and one that is not used eventually disappears
- any feature of an organism that is improved through use is passed to its offspring
