Repression and Realism in Post-War American Literature E. Mercer, 2011-05-09 This study of fiction produced in America in the decade following 1945 examines literature by writers such as Kerouac and Bellow It examines how though such fiction seemed to resolutely avoid the events and implications of World War II it was still suffused with dread and suggestions of war in imagery and language

Holocaust Literature: Agosin to Lentin S. Lillian Kremer, 2003 Review This encyclopedia offers an authoritative and comprehensive survey of the important writers and works that form the literature about the Holocaust and its consequences The collection is alphabetically arranged and consists of high quality biocritical essays on 309 writers who are first second and third generation survivors or important thinkers and spokespersons on the Holocaust An essential literary reference work this publication is an important addition to the genre and a solid value for public and academic libraries The Top 20 Reference Titles of the Year American Libraries May 2004

Victims of the System Robert Elias, 1985-01-01 This important new book on criminology is a major attempt to evaluate actual victim compensation programs as well as their political and economic contexts through the eyes of the victims themselves Elias traces the experiences of violent crime victims throughout the entire criminal justice process comparing New York's and New Jersey's victim compensation programs He shows how programs differ when compensation is viewed essentially as welfare and when it is viewed as a right The study uses extensive interviews with officials and with violent crime victims The study indicates victim compensation programs largely fail to achieve their stated goals of improving attitudes toward the criminal justice system and the government The programs produce poor attitudes toward government and criminal justice

Haunted in the New World Donald Weber, 2005-06-08 Haunted in the New World is a superb insightful and acutely intelligent piece of work It makes a real contribution to the understanding of ethnicity in general and Jewish American culture in particular Morris

Dickstein In 1916 Abraham Cahan editor of the Jewish daily The Forward warned his Yiddish speaking readers of the potential psychic dangers associated with their New World situation You will not be able to erase the old home from your heart he cautioned his immigrant readers transplanted from the shtetls and cities of Eastern Europe to exhilarating if bewildering multicultural New York Building on Cahan s deeply personal reflection Haunted in the New World maps the affective landscape of modern Jewish American culture Drawing on scholarship in a range of disciplines including the sociology of manners the study of the role of foodways in the formation of ethnic identity the psychoanalysis of shame and self hatred and the role of memory for those unsettled by the experience of migration Donald Weber traces the impact of the tension between nostalgia for the world left behind and the desire to blend into American culture as evidenced in a number of key texts in the canon of Jewish American expression These range from early immigrant fiction and cinema through the novels of Anzia Yezierska and Henry Roth to Hollywood s representation of Jews in The Jazz Singer and Gentleman s Agreement to Saul Bellow Gertrude Berg Molly Goldberg and the comedians Milton Berle and Mickey Katz Setting an array of figures and works in creative dialogue Haunted in the New World offers a genealogy of those core emotions shame and self hatred nostalgic longing and the impulse to forget that organized much of 20th century Jewish American expressive culture and transformed American culture at the same time

Why Is America Different? Steven T. Katz, 2010-10-11 Does the American Jewish experience represent a singular communal circumstance or does it repeat with obvious and unavoidable variation the older European pattern of Jewish existence In 2004 on the occasion of the 350th anniversary of the establishment of the American Jewish community this question seemed well worth revisiting To explore it more fully the Elie Wiesel Center for Judaic Studies at Boston University brought together a distinguished group of expert scholars on the main areas of American Jewish life stretching from the colonial Jewish experience to the image of Jews in contemporary films The present volume represents the fruit of this collective reflection and interrogation
