competitive and turbulent economic conditions have forced American businesses to re examine every aspect of their is a firm can create a market strategy for a new product that takes into account the fact that different customers will be willing to pay different prices based on their expertise and perception of the product s value In addition this strategy considers that consumers will also want different models of the product In the first half of this work Geruson develops these information signalling and customer purchase risk reduction The second half follows with applications to these concepts in regard to the mainframe computer industry In depth examples from IBM and niche computer companies Cray Tandem and
