Item Analysis

10. D. Incorrect

A. The student does not take the negative in the parentheses.

B. The student subtracts the 2 from the 2,000 and then the 0.002, without considering that the 200 also has a negative from the parentheses.

C. The student does not subtract correctly in the parentheses and then adds.

11. D. The student incorrectly calculates the expression by subtracting the denominator and multiplying the numerator.

E. Correct answer

A. The student incorrectly calculates the expression by adding the denominator and the numerator.

B. The student incorrectly calculates the expression by dividing both the numerator and the denominator.

12. E. The student does not find the order of operations correctly.

F. Incorrect

A. The student does not find the order of operations correctly.

B. The student does not find the order of operations correctly.

13. B. The student does not find the greatest common factor.

A. The student finds the greatest common factor but does not divide the numbers by the greatest common factor.

C. The student does not find the greatest common factor.

D. Incorrect

14. Correct. The student demonstrates a thorough understanding of identifying and finding greatest common factors and whole numbers. The student identifies the length and width of the hallway, converts mixed numbers to  $\frac{11}{12}$  inches for the width and  $\frac{1}{2}$  inches for the length, and divides the length by the width to find the number of times longer the length is than the width. The student shows accurate calculation and final work and provides clear and complete explanations.

Correct. The student demonstrates an understanding of identifying and finding greatest common factors and whole numbers, but the student's work is not completely accurate in calculating the final answer.

Correct. The student demonstrates a partial understanding of identifying and finding greatest common factors and whole numbers. The student's work and explanations demonstrate a lack of general understanding.

Correct. The student demonstrates a minimal understanding of identifying and finding greatest common factors and whole numbers. The student's response is incomplete and demonstrates flaws.

Correct. The student correctly identifies a common factor of the dimensions of the hallway, but does not demonstrate a thorough understanding of multiplying and dividing mixed numbers and whole numbers.
