Farming Systems and Poverty John A. Dixon,David P. Gibbon,Aidan Gulliver,Food and Agriculture Organization of the United Nations,2001-01-01 Small farmers produce much of the developing world s food Yet they are generally much poorer than the rest of the population in these countries and are less food secure than even the urban poor Furthermore although the majority of the world s population will live in urban areas by 2030 farming populations will not be much smaller than they are today For the foreseeable future therefore dealing with poverty and hunger in much of the world means confronting the problems that small farmers and their families face in their daily struggle for survival Through an examination of a wide variety of farming systems across the developing world this book co published with the World Bank shows how the farming systems approach can be used to identify key local regional and international priorities for the reduction of hunger and poverty

Conservation Agriculture: A Sustainable Approach for Soil Health and Food Security Somasundaram Jayaraman,Ram C. Dalal,Ashok K. Patra,Suresh K. Chaudhari,2021-08-20 Feeding the increasing global population which is projected to reach 10 billion by 2050 there has been increasing demands for more improved sustainable agricultural management practices that can be followed by farmers to improve productivity without jeopardizing the environment and ecosystem Indeed about 95% of our food directly or indirectly comes from soil It is a precious resource and sustainable soil management is a critical socio economic and environmental issue Maintaining the environmental sustainability while the world is facing resource degradation increasing climate change and population explosion is the current challenge of every food production sectors Thus there is an urgent need to evolve a holistic approach such as conservation agriculture to sustain higher crop productivity in the country without deteriorating soil health Conservation Agriculture CA is a sustainable approach to manage agro ecosystems in order to improve productivity increase farm profitability and food security and also enhance the resource base and environment Worldwide it has been reported various benefits and prospects in adopting CA technologies in different agro climatic conditions Yet CA in arid and semi arid regions of India and parts of south Asia raises uncertainties due to its extreme climates large scale residue burning soil erosion and other constraints such as low water holding capacity high potential evapotranspiration etc Thus the proposed book has 30 chapters addressing all issues relevant to conservation agriculture no till farming system The book also gives further strengthening existing knowledge in relation to soil physical chemical and biological processes and health within close proximity of CA as well as machinery requirements Moreover the information on carbon C sequestration C credits greenhouse gas GHG emission mitigation of climate change effects and socio economic view on CA under diverse ecologies namely rainfed irrigated and hill eco region is also deliberated For large scale adoption of CA practices in South Asian region especially in India and other countries need dissemination of best bet CA technologies for dominant soil types cropping systems through participatory mode strong linkages and institutional mechanism and public private policy support We hope this book gives a comprehensive and clear picture about conservation agriculture no till farming and its associated problem challenges prospects and benefits This book shall be highly useful reference material to researchers scientists students farmers and land managers for efficient and sustainable management of natural resources Crop Diversification in the Asia-Pacific Region Minas K.

Papademetriou,2001 Agroecological Practices To Enhance Resilience Of Farming Systems Fabio Gresta,Moritz Von Cossel,Danilo Scordia,2025-08-19 Resource over exploitation coupled with climate change has increased the urgency to act for preserving agroecosystems and their sustainability Unlike conventional agriculture agroecology addresses the current challenges of farming systems harnessing synergy with natural social and human resources in both time and space to produce food sustainably Several strategies addressing climate and environmental specific objectives call for agroecological practices to enhance the resilience of agroecosystems and to formulate transition pathways towards sustainable food systems In the coming decades the resilience of agriculture will be challenged by extreme climate change events such as increased temperature drought evapotranspiration and wind among others altering the conditions for cropland species This Research Topic will explore this hypothesis aiming to disseminate insights from research as evidence of the effectiveness of agroecological practices to enhance the resiliency of agroecosystems and counteract the detrimental effects of climate change Sustainable Development in Africa Walter Leal Filho,Rudi Pretorius,Luiza Olim de Sousa,2021-07-09 This book serves the purpose of documenting and promoting African experiences on sustainable development which encompasses both formal and non formal education Sustainable development is very important to Africa but there is a paucity of publication which documents and promotes experiences from African countries Due to their complexity the interrelations between social economic and political factors related to sustainable development especially at universities need to be better understood There is also a real need to showcase successful examples of how African institutions are handling their sustainability challenges It is against this background that this book has been produced It is a truly interdisciplinary publication useful to scholars social movements practitioners and members of governmental agencies and private companies undertaking research and or executing projects focusing on sustainability from across Africa As African nations strive to pursue the UN Sustainable Development Goals it is imperative to cater for the information needs seen across the continent and foster the dissemination of experiences and case studies which may support both on going and future efforts The scope of the book is deliberately kept wide and we are looking for contributions across the spectrum of sustainable development from business and economics to arts and fashion administration environment languages and media studies
