A Study on the Washback Effects of the Test for English Majors (TEM) Qian Xu, Jun Liu, 2018-10-05 This book adopts a multi method and multi phase approach to investigate the washback effects of Test for English Majors TEM on program administrators teachers and students shedding new light on TEM reform and the reform of English teaching and learning in China TEM a nationwide test used to measure the language proficiency of undergraduate English majors in China is a major standardized test taken by nearly 400 000 students every year The book s key features include an in depth discussion of the nature of washback and a framework for investigating it a multi method and multi phase approach employing both the quantitative method of questionnaire surveys and the qualitative methods of interviews and classroom observations large scale questionnaire surveys conducted among experts program administrators teachers and students and involving over 30 000 participants detailed assessments of TEM s washback effects on stakeholders perceptions classroom teaching practice students learning activities etc and essential insights into testing and teaching reforms Ideology and Hegemony of English Foreign Language Textbooks Ömer Gökhan Ulum, Dinçay Köksal, 2020-01-27 This volume investigates ideological and hegemonic practices in globally and locally written English as a Foreign Language EFL textbooks and explores whether these textbooks reflect the values beliefs and norms of the native speaker society by examining their ideological components and the hegemonic practices by means of which the source society or state seeks to influence learners of the language It also attempts to clarify EFL teachers and students views on the underlying ideology and hegemonic practices in globally and locally written EFL textbooks Studies on the relationship between ideology hegemony and textbooks in applied linguistics have become more prevalent in recent decades as the emergence of critical theory critical pedagogy and critical thinking skills from the 1920s onwards has led scholars to adopt a more critical perspective towards EFL textbooks especially with regard to elements of ideology and hegemony These two terms encompass a plethora of components ranging from nationalism to religion At the same time the importance of metanarratives originating from the tenets of modernism has declined from the 1960s onwards the assumption being that the world has entered a new age called postmodernism and post structuralism that emphasizes the role of individuals and rejects efforts to reinforce post colonialism the effects of which can be seen in EFL textbooks Accordingly taking the elements of ideology and hegemony into account remains a vital aspect in the analysis of EFL textbooks English Class Elizabeth Kilbey, 2017 Growing Up Muslim Andrew Garrod, Robert Kilkeny, 2014-04-11 While 9 11 and its aftermath created a traumatic turning point for most of the writers in this book it is telling that none of their essays begin with that moment These young people were living probing and shifting their Muslim identities long before 9 11 I ve heard it said that the second generation never asks the first about its story but nearly all the essays in this book include long intimate portrayals of Muslim family life often going back generations These young Muslims are constantly negotiating the differences between families for whom faith and culture were matters of honor and North America's youth culture with its emphasis on questioning exploring and inventing one's own destiny from the Introduction by Eboo Patel In Growing Up Muslim Andrew Garrod and Robert Kilkenny present fourteen personal essays by college students of the Muslim faith who are themselves immigrants or are the children of immigrants to the United States In their essays the students grapple with matters of ethnicity religious prejudice and misunderstanding and what is termed Islamophobia The fact of 9/11 and subsequent surveillance and suspicion of Islamic Americans particularly those hailing from the Middle East and the Asian Subcontinent have had a profound effect on these students their families and their communities of origin
