World Atlas Language World:

The World Atlas of Language Structures Martin Haspelmath, Matthew S. Dryer, David Gil, Bernard Comrie, 2005-07-21 The World Atlas of Language Structures is a book and CD combination displaying the structural properties of the world's languages 142 world maps and numerous regional maps all in colour display the geographical distribution of features of pronunciation and grammar such as number of vowels tone systems gender plurals tense word order and body part terminology Each world map shows an average of 400 languages and is accompanied by a fully referenced description of the structural feature in question The CD provides an interactive electronic version of the database which allows the reader to zoom in on or customize the maps to display bibliographical sources and to establish correlations between features The book and the CD together provide an indispensable source of information for linguists and others seeking to understand human languages The Atlas will be especially valuable for linguistic typologists grammatical theorists historical and comparative linguists and for those studying a region such as Africa Southeast Asia North America Australia and Europe It will also interest anthropologists and geographers More than fifty authors from many different countries have collaborated to produce a work that sets new standards in comparative linguistics No institution involved in language research can afford to be without it

The World Atlas of Language Structures Online, 2008 A large database of structural phonological grammatical lexical properties of languages gathered from descriptive materials such as reference grammars by a team of more than 40 authors Includes 141 maps with accompanying texts on diverse features such as vowel inventory size noun genitive order passive constructions and hand arm polysemy Each map shows between 120 and 1370 languages each language being represented by a symbol and different symbols showing different values of the feature Altogether 2 650 languages are shown on the maps
