Agriculture And Rural Development Strategy In Myanmar:

North Korea and Myanmar Andray Abrahamian, 2018-02-20 North Korea and Myanmar Burma are Asia's most mysterious tragic stories. For decades they were infamous as the region's most militarized and repressed societies, self-isolated and under sanctions by the international community while from Singapore to Japan the rest of Asia saw historic wealth creation and growing middle class security. For Burma the threat was internal, insurgent factions clashed with the government and each other. For North Korea it was external, a hostile superpower, the United States and a far more successful rival state, South Korea, occupying half of the Korean peninsula. Over time Myanmar defeated its enemies, giving it space to explore a form of democratization and openness that has led to reintegration into international society. Meanwhile North Korea's regime believes its nuclear arsenal, the primary reason for their pariah status, is vital to survival.

The Myanmar Economy

Konosuke Odaka, 2015-11-11 With motivated human resources and a rich natural bounty Myanmar is expected to take off with sustained growth and eventually attain a unique welfare state. On the basis of the author's field surveys and innumerable dialogues with public officials, private professionals, scholars, and others, in addition to intensive desk studies since around 2000, the present volume lays out the essential ingredients for drawing a roadmap to realize the above-mentioned objective. That goal is specifically financial development, adequate social capital, indigenous modern manufactures, and closer international tie-ups, among others, but above all sound agrarian development. An effort has been made to place the required ingredients in their historical contexts, as historical experiences constitute an important sociopolitical condition in which development takes place. Myanmar nationals and readers concerned with the country's economic progress are encouraged to give serious, sustained thought to coming up with a socially supportable roadmap for the country's development path. The present volume provides valuable hints for that purpose.

Myanmar's agrifood system: Historical development, recent shocks, future opportunities Boughton, Duncan, Belton, Ben, Lambrecht, Isabel B., Masias, Ian, Minten, Bart, 2024-10-16 Myanmar has endured multiple crises in recent years, including COVID-19, global price instability, the 2021 coup, and widespread conflict that have disrupted and even reversed a decade of economic development. Household welfare has declined severely, with more than 3 million people displaced and many more affected by high food price inflation and worsening diets. Yet Myanmar's agrifood production and exports have proved surprisingly resilient. Myanmar's Agrifood System: Historical Development, Recent Shocks, Future Opportunities provides critical analyses and insights into the agrifood system's evolution, current state, and future potential. This work fills an important knowledge gap for one of Southeast Asia's major agricultural economies, one largely closed to empirical research for many years. It is the culmination of a decade of rigorous empirical research on Myanmar's agrifood system, including through the recent crises. Written by IFPRI researchers and colleagues from Michigan State University, the book's insights can serve as a guide for immediate humanitarian assistance and inform future growth strategies once a sustainable resolution to the current crisis is found that ensures lasting peace and
