Recoding Power Sidney A. Rothstein, 2022 Digital transformation increasingly drives economic growth in the rich capitalist democracies but orienting production around digital technologies is associated with rising inequality and spreading precarity In Recoding Power Rothstein outlines three tactics that workers can use to build power in the current episode of economic transition where they otherwise lack access to traditional power resources like unions and institutions for social protection Drawing on four in depth case studies of workers responding to mass layoffs at tech firms in the United States and Germany Rothstein shows how workers can develop creative tactics to recode management s discursive techniques for control transforming them from obstacles into resources for collective action By centering workers lived experiences in the workplace Recoding Power develops an account of existing digital transformation illustrating how the path of capitalist development is shaped not by economic necessity but by political creativity

Transformational Leadership and Not for Profits and Social Enterprises Ken Wiltshire, Aastha Malhotra, Micheal Axelsen, 2018-03-28 Recent decades have seen a significant transformation of the not for profit NFP sector This includes rise in the number of organisations and people employed shift from charities and philanthropic agencies to hybrid social enterprise business models competing stakeholder interests and increasing expectations regarding accountability and transparency The role of NFPs has also become more complex they not only serve the disadvantaged and fulfil social needs but also actively advocate for and implement public policies and promote social and economic inclusion The growth and complexity has brought with it a need for innovative and entrepreneurial approaches to leadership that stems from an in depth understanding of the changing nonprofit landscape Addressing this need for Not for Profits and Social Enterprises will help readers navigate extant challenges by drawing on conceptual literature both theoretical and empirical and emphasising
