fascinating as Amy Chua's Battle Hymn of the Tiger Mother memoir as relatable as Jen Hatmaker's Christian foibles as uplifting as Iyanla Vanzant's inspirational messages and backed by solid research of the likes of Brene Brown. By deftly combining four of America's favorite genres into one enjoyable read, the author does not force us to compare and choose one world view over another but honors all. Kim understands the unique challenges and opportunities that arise when you're parenting in a culture different than the one in which you were raised. Her words are wise and just what you need to figure out what is best for your family.

Jill Savage, author of Better Together Because You're Not Meant to Mom Alone. This is an insightful book full of sound and practical advice. I highly recommend it.

Dr. Helen Mendes, Love MSW, author of Reflections on the Upsides of Aging. Kim gives invaluable insight on the intricacies of parenting in a more globalized and culturally relevant world while respecting tradition and heritage.

Sam Louie, M.A., LMHC, author of Asian Shame and Addiction: Suffering in Silence. Humorous yet educational, this book is a must-read for any parent.

Carole Petiet, PhD, 2016-08-15. The Day I Died: Brain Trauma and the Journey Back tells the story of a psychologist and registered nurse who had a catastrophic near-fatal injury while ski racing with her daughter. This is a riveting story about the trauma and healing of a brave and indomitable woman. Her extensive education and expertise enable Dr. Petiet to turn her personal tale into an inspirational account that instructs us all, especially when we face the arduous task of recovery from trauma or when we support people personally or professionally as they heal.

Special issues include: Coping with pain, Rehabilitation medicine, Integrative medicine, Brain plasticity, Helping children after trauma, Somatic therapy, Healing of eyes, Ski safety. Strange Situation Bethany Saltman, 2020-06-02. A full-scale investigation of the controversial and often misunderstood science of attachment theory, inspired by the author's own experience as a parent and daughter. When award-winning editor, writer, researcher, and longtime Zen student Bethany Saltman gave birth to her daughter, Azalea, she felt like there was something off about her experience. She knew she loved her daughter but would oftentimes be angry, short on patience, even unkind. She went in search of the reasons why and how to better understand herself, her daughter, and their relationship. Saltman launched a broad inquiry into the science of attachment, a field of developmental psychology that answers the question of why, from an evolutionary point of view love exists between parents and children Specifically she focused on the data from a famous laboratory procedure the Strange Situation used around the world by scientists as the gold standard for measuring attachment security What Saltman found by studying the Strange Situation is that love is unbreakable Each and every one of us including her is built for it In this intimate rigorous and deeply personal rendering Saltman discovers that while our behaviour as parents is important what matters most is the way we think about our attachments transmitted mind to mind from generation to generation This is excellent news After all as Saltman s decades of Zen practice tell her and her readers the one thing completely within our power to change is our minds
