Aditi Dasgupta,2015-06-02 After identifying the misconceptions attached to the figure of the Mughal Courtesan and then defining it in terms of the dual component structure of adaa in the face of a dearth of literature that exists on the culture and the agency of the courtesan this analysis would reinterpret the status of the courtesan figure within the domain of feminist theories and self assertion The female desire for autonomy according to Elaine Showalter defines a female exclusivity in terms of the dynamic phase which is a combination of the feminine conflict between self fulfillment and duty the feminist political consciousness and the female desire for autonomy If one operates the courtesan figure in the Showalter domain then the means to resist gender hierarchies through literary practices lie in a combination of both demand for exclusivity and real struggle into a truly subversive aesthetic which would have allowed the courtesan to have walked the corridors of power Juliet Mitchells argument states that the gendered treatment of women came into existence through the ideological form of the novel with females constructing themselves as the women they are under bourgeois norms by reading and writing novels Rereading the Silencing of the Sirens would uncover another such exclusive female tradition studying the female consciousness from the courtesans point of view The Pakistan Paradox Christophe Jaffrelot,2015-08-15 Pakistan was born as the creation of elite Urdu speaking Muslims who sought to govern a state that would maintain their dominance After rallying non Urdu speaking leaders around him Jinnah imposed a unitary definition of the new nation state that obliterated linguistic diversity This centralisation justified by the Indian threat fostered centrifugal forces that resulted in Bengali secessionism in 1971 and Baloch as well as Mohajir separatisms today Concentration of power in the hands of the establishment remained the norm and while authoritarianism peaked under military rule democracy failed to usher in reform and the rule of law remained fragile at best under Zulfikar Bhutto and later Nawaz Sharif While Jinnah and Ayub Khan regarded religion as a cultural marker since their time the Islamists have gradually prevailed They benefited from the support of General Zia while others including sectarian groups cashed in on their struggle against the establishment to woo the disenfranchised Today Pakistan faces existential challenges ranging from ethnic strife to Islamism two sources of instability which hark back to elite domination But the resilience of the country and its people the resolve of the judiciary and hints of reform in the army may open up new possibilities
