Sacred Buildings Rudolf Stegers, 2008-05-16 The building of religious structures represents a rare opportunity for the architect to concentrate on the creation of volume space and form Sacred architecture is far less determined than other building tasks by functional requirements norms and standards As a rule it is free to unfold as pure architecture Thus in design terms this building task offers enormous freedoms to the architect At the same time however the special atmospherics of sacred spaces call on the part of the architect for a highly sensitive treatment of religion and the relevant cultural and architectural traditions In a systematic section this volume introduces the design technical and planning fundamentals of building churches synagogues and mosques In its project section it also presents about seventy realized structures from the last three decades Drawing upon his in depth knowledge of the subject and his many years of publishing experience the author offers a valuable analysis of the conceptual and formal aspects that combine to create the religious impact of spaces e g the ground plan the shapes of the spaces the incidence of light and materiality
