

Activity: Researching Author-Character Connections - Example

This lesson addresses reading writing standards across two novels. Part of this problem is that many students do not have the skills to read for meaning or to make connections between their own lives and the characters in the text. This is an example of the work that we do in this activity.

The book connections in this activity are designed to help you understand the author's style and structure and to encourage you to make the author's choices for writing the plot. This is an example of the work that we do in this activity. See this page for additional work on writing the author's choices for the plot.
