DISCOVERY APPLICATION: MOVEMENTS IN LANGUAGE

First Nationalist Directions: Read the paragraphs below and study the map carefully. First address the questions that follow:

Section 1

The languages of Europe are divided into four major families—Celtic, Germanic, Romance, and Slavic.

Nationalists, people who believed that people of a certain ancestry should unite under a single government, often used common language as a tool to achieve this goal.

In central Europe, the idea of a national language appeared instead of forming one nation. The German people, though divided into many different states and principalities, had been associated with national unity since the Middle Ages, thanks to Martin Luthardt's Bible. Luthardt traveled throughout Germany studying dialects and collecting folk tales in the hopes of creating a sense of German identity.

In southeastern Europe, Slavic people began a movement to preserve their culture and their national identities. These people studied folk tales, studied languages, collected folkways, and wrote books in their native tongues. For example, in a region that was no longer
