Foi et culture en Irak au XIe siècle Khalil Samir, 1996. The 10th century was an age of enormous intellectual vitality in the lands of Islam, stimulated by the assimilation of Greek thought. Notable among the scholars and writers of the period were Syrian Christians, bi- or trilingual, whose contributions in medicine and philosophy, especially, were seminal. Elias, bishop of Nisibis, 975-1046, to whose life and work these articles are devoted, was educated in this tradition of Greek science and scholarship as well as in Christian and Muslim theology and came to be recognized as outstanding for the depth of his learning. A particular impression was made by his debates with the vizier Abu l Qasim Ibn Ali al Maghribi in 1027. In the studies gathered here, Professor Samir has made a major contribution to our understanding of this important period of medieval intellectual history.
