Understanding Gender in Maldives Jana El-Horr,Rohini Prabha Pande,2016-06-07 Within the past decade the Maldives moved from poverty to middle income status introduced democracy and was hailed as a Millennium Development Goal Plus country Women face little discrimination in basic aspects of life such as primary education health and survival unlike in much of South Asia This economic and social progress has yet to be fully inclusive however and gender inequality endures despite constitutional guarantees to the contrary This is at least partly due to a shift in the nature of Islamic practice in the Maldives towards more rigidly patriarchal interpretations Women s labor force participation is high but limited to lower echelons of the economy Women are slightly more likely than men to be unemployed Despite gender equal primary schooling girls access to tertiary and professional education is hampered by beliefs about girls and women s mobility and primacy of household roles over others Within the home women face challenges that men do not such as high risks of domestic violence and little control over household assets Finally women have limited presence in politics and governance Men struggle with different gendered situations Unemployment is high among young men who also increasingly are alienated from society and family This alienation combined with a lack of strong alternative social structures to replace the breakdown of traditional family structures that has accompanied Maldives development trajectory appear to be propelling young men towards greater social conservatism participation in gangs drug use and violence Nonetheless women are more disadvantaged in more realms of life than are men Moreover public support for gender equality and women s rights appears to be declining These developments are worrying for the future of gender equality in the Maldives as well as for a more inclusive development model that would offer opportunities to both men and women SADC Gender Protocol 2017

Barometer Morna, Colleen Lowe,Makamure, Lucia,2017-10-04 The SADC Protocol on Gender and Development is the only sub regional instrument in the world that brings together global and continental commitments to gender equality in one instrument used to enhance accountability The Southern African Gender Protocol Alliance is a network of country and regional NGOs that campaigned for the Protocol its updating implementation and tracking Originally aligned to the Millennium Development Goals that expired in 2015 SADC Gender Ministers updated the Protocol and aligned it to the Sustainable development Goals SDGs Beijing Plus Twenty and the Africa Agenda 2063 in 2016 In July 2017 the Ministers adopted a Monitoring Evaluation and Reporting Framework MERF that will be the basis of future reporting Now in its ninth edition the 2017 Barometer is the first assessment of the Post 2015 SADC Gender Protocol Moving with the times the Alliance has expanded the two key main yardsticks in the Barometer the SADC Gender and Development Index SGDI and the Citizen Score Card CSC The Barometer incorporates many MERF and SDG indicators as well as its own unique measures of voice choice and control The Barometer also introduces the Gender Responsive Assessment of Constitutions and Laws conducted by Alliance experts and networks around the region A wealth of data insights and analysis awaits all readers of the

Barometer that will also be made available online and in multi media formats The SADC we want is one in which citizens engage step it up for gender equality and make sure we achieve Planet 50 50 by 2030 Are data available for tracking progress on nutrition policies, programs, and outcomes in Maldives? Neupane, Sumanta, Jangid, Manita, Scott, Samuel, Nguyen, Phuong Hong, Kim, Sunny S., Murira, Zivai, Torlesse, Harriet, Menon, Purnima, 2021-07-15 The World Health Organization WHO and other global nutrition and health agencies recommend nutrition actions across the life course to address malnutrition in all its forms In this report we examined how Maldives nutrition policies and programs addressed recommended nutrition actions determinants and outcomes We reviewed population based surveys and assess the availability of data on nutrition actions nutrition outcomes and the determinants of these outcomes Our policy review identified a total of 53 recommended evidence based nutrition actions of these 49 nutrition actions were applicable in Maldives and 31 were addressed in the country s nutrition policies and programs The Maldives nutrition plan the Integrated National Nutrition Strategic Plan or INNSP recognized and addressed all key determinants of nutrition except women s status appropriate age of marriage childbirth and infectious diseases the country s nutrition plan aimed to track progress on all nutrition outcome indicators Our data review found that of 31 actions addressed by policies and programs population based surveys contained data on only 22 actions Neither of the population based surveys contained data on a range of actions including advice on consuming iron and folic acid IFA during pregnancy support for early initiation of breastfeeding and immediate skin to skin contact optimal feeding of low birth weight infants counseling of mothers of low birth weight infants on kangaroo mother care KMC during delivery and postpartum period counseling on infant and young child feeding IYCF growth monitoring and counseling after growth monitoring during early childhood The population based surveys contained data on most of the indicators for immediate and underlying determinants indicators that were not available included maternal dietary diversity during pregnancy household food insecurity and coverage under social protection schemes With the exception of anemia among non pregnant women data on all nutrition outcomes was available in population based surveys In conclusion Maldives should consider updating its national policies and programs to address existing gaps in recommended nutrition actions in addition future population based surveys may also need to be revised to fill identified data gaps around nutrition actions and determinants
