Code-switching in a Multilingual Environment Fatimah Haji Awang Chuchu (Dayang.), 2007 Syntactic Transfer, Contact-induced Change, and the Evolution of Bilingual Mixed Codes Anneli Sarhimaa, 1999 Comparative contact phenomena have excited growing interest among linguistic scholars in recent decades Yet there have been very few detailed case studies particularly in the area of syntactic interference The present study approaches contact induced syntactic change from the viewpoint of a single Russian modeled syntactic construction which is used to express necessity in Karelian The processes by which Russian features are entering Karelian through this construction are embedded in a broader context of codeswitching and other kinds of language mixing phenomena in bilingual speech communities in general The study employs current theories and models of bilingual language alternation particularly those produced by investigations concerned with syntax and grammar of codeswitched speech The

Karelian Russian data are also discussed in relation of two recent models that have sought to explain the evolution of stable mixed languages in terms of gradual fossilisation of codeswitching patterns namely the Matrix Language Turnover model introduced by Carol Myers Scotton and the Pragmatic codeswitching continuum introduced by Peter Auer

Regional Nationalism in Spain Jaine Beswick, 2007 This highly accessible book examines linguistic diversity in Galicia one of the devolved regions of Spain Its principal hypotheses are that the Galician language is an intrinsic characteristic of Galician ethnic identity that policy and planning impact on the behavioural practices of language users reflected in loyalty and prestige factors that whilst a reversal in traditional perceptions and attitudes is resulting in a reaffirmation of Galician as the autochthonous language its sociolinguistic relationship with Castilian has not been resolved that Galicians have to negotiate multiple identities subject to constant change and adjustment Through its innovative and in depth analysis of Galician linguistic sociolinguistic ethnic and cultural revival and revitalisation processes it also serves to emphasise the wider relevance of such studies to the case of minoritised languages in general
