Higher Education: A Critical Business Ronald Barnett,1997-06-16 Higher Education A Critical Business is a bold statement about higher education in the modern age It continues Ronald Barnett s thinking of his earlier books but offers a completely new set of ideas in a challenging but engaging argument A defining concept of the Western university is that of critical thinking but that idea is completely inadequate for the changing and unknowable world facing graduates Instead we have to displace the idea of critical thinking with the much broader idea of critical being In this idea students reflect critically on knowledge but they also develop their powers of critical self reflection and critical action This critique is transformatory An education for critical being calls for a new approach to the process of higher education It also has implications for the organization and management of universities and for the relationship of universities to the wider worlds of work professionalism and intellectual life Barnett reviews what the academy customarily means when it talks about critical thought explains why that talk is so often shallow and pessimistic and holds up for contemplation a positive conception of a very wide self formed through education He breathes completely new life into the dead notion of academic as intellectual Professor Sheldon Rothblatt University of California Berkeley and Royal Institute of Technology Sweden Anyone interested in understanding how we might develop universities and higher education for the modern world should read this important book

Encyclopedia of Actuarial Science, 3 Volume Set Jozef L. Tidal Friction and the Earth's Rotation Peter Brosche,2013-12-01 P Brosche The development of the ideas and observational techniques related to the subject of our meeting Tidal friction and the Earth s rotation Bielefeld September 1977 is one of the most fascinating books not merely chapters of the modern history of science Its genealogical tree is as intricate as that of mankind itself There are dead ends and superfluous re discoveries Due to these circumstances and to the pure extent of the topic it is impossible to give more than a few highlights here The first relevant observational fact was discovered by the famous English astronomer E Halley in 1695 Berry 1961 He simply could not arrive at an agreement between ancient and recent eclipses using a constant mean angular motion of the Moon Instead he had to intro duce an empirical acceleration term in the mean motion Known as the secular acceleration it has ever since been a most challenging sub ject of celestial mechanics and a main branch of the genealogical tree already mentioned In 1754 completely independently and almost certainly in ignorance of those specialists activities the German philosopher Kant established the idea of tidal friction as a decelerating mechanism for the rotation of the Earth Felber 1974 Although he made some errors in his rough computations the majority of the constitutive elements of his concept have survived to the present day Brosche 1977
