

Office 365 Administration Guide Enterprise

In previous editions we discussed how to move your functions to Office 365. We agree that all your settings should be kept different regardless of Office 365 type (Enterprise, Midsize and Professional) and pointed out that (as should be) settings for Enterprise have to be different. The main reason why we select the enterprise version is a simple one: you lose the flexibility of Enterprise and your email can be affected compared with the other plan options.

This chapter focuses on the administration of the Enterprise subscriptions for Office 365. Data is shared, and your administrators can see looking at the complete set of enterprise users. This chapter contains the content for the administrators set used in previous. These users have been converted from existing users in existing mailboxes to existing Microsoft 365 users changing the subscription type (see table 8.1).
