Biomorphic Architecture:

Biomorphic architecture Günther Feuerstein,2002 Building for Life Stephen R. Kellert,2012-09-26 Sustainable design has made great strides in recent years unfortunately it still falls short of fully integrating nature into our built environment Through a groundbreaking new paradigm of restorative environmental design award winning author Stephen R Kellert proposes a new architectural model of sustainability In Building For Life Kellert examines the fundamental interconnectedness of people and nature and how the loss of this connection results in a diminished quality of life This thoughtful new work illustrates how architects and designers can use simple methods to address our innate needs for contact with nature Through the use of natural lighting ventilation and materials as well as more unexpected methodologies the use of metaphor perspective enticement and symbol architects can greatly enhance our daily lives These design techniques foster intellectual development relaxation and physical and emotional well being In the works of architects like Frank Lloyd Wright Eero Saarinen Cesar Pelli Norman Foster and Michael Hopkins Kellert sees the success of these strategies and presents models for moving forward Ultimately Kellert views our fractured relationship with nature as a design problem rather than an unavoidable aspect of modern life and he proposes many practical and creative solutions for cultivating a more rewarding experience of nature in our built environment

Neural Information Processing and VLSI Bing J. Sheu,Joongho Choi,2012-12-06 Neural Information Processing and VLSI provides a unified treatment of this important subject for use in classrooms industry and research laboratories in order to develop advanced artificial and biologically inspired neural networks using compact analog and digital VLSI parallel processing techniques Neural Information Processing and VLSI systematically presents various neural network paradigms computing architectures and the associated electronic optical implementations using efficient VLSI design methodologies Conventional digital machines cannot perform computationally intensive tasks with satisfactory performance in such areas as intelligent perception including visual and auditory signal processing recognition understanding and logical reasoning where the human being and even a small living animal can do a superb job Recent research advances in artificial and biological neural networks have established an important foundation for high performance information processing with more efficient use of computing resources The secret lies in the design optimization at various levels of computing and communication of intelligent machines Each neural network system consists of massively paralleled and distributed signal processors with every processor performing very simple operations thus consuming little power Large computational capabilities of these systems in the range of some hundred giga to several tera operations per second are derived from collectively parallel processing and efficient data routing through well structured interconnection networks Deep submicron very large scale integration VLSI technologies can integrate tens of millions of transistors in a single silicon chip for complex signal processing and information manipulation The book is suitable for those interested in efficient neurocomputing as well as those curious about neural network system applications It has been especially prepared for use as a text for advanced undergraduate and first year graduate students and is an excellent reference book for researchers and scientists working in the fields covered deploy those abilities we must shrug off the dogma of sustainability that insists only small can be beautiful Humanity has come a long way since the first modular mega structure was built at Ur on land that is now Iraq There four millennia ago and by hand the Sumerians built a mud brick ziggurat to their Gods Today the green deities of Nature we have invented for ourselves are worshipped with humility Eco zealots argue against the mechanised megaforming of landscape and the modularised production of megastructures The guest editors Jonathan Schwinge and Ian Abley of the London based research organisation audacity call for development on a bold scale They argue that by rapidly super sizing the built environment society is not made vulnerable to natural or man made hazards and that design innovation surpasses bio mimicry Designers can learn from materials scientists working at the smallest of scales and from systems manufacturers with ambitions at the largest This issue calls for creative thinking about typologies and topologies and considers what that also means for Africa China and Russia Megacities everywhere demand integration of global systems of transport utilities and IT in gigantic structures constantly upgraded scraping both the sky and the ground outward into the sea Art and Science, 2003 The Culture of Corporeality Stefan Leonhard Brandt, 2007 The Culture of Corporeality outlines a cultural history of the body in the American postwar years 1945 1960 based on contemporary critical theory and exemplified by a variety of films literary works and other documents The book argues that the body as a cultural symbolic and lived Biomorphic Structures Asterios Agkathidis, 2017-01-31 From leaves to liquids caves to crystal formations nature has always been a major source of inspiration for architects This book examines how nature can act as a precedent for design solutions through twelve case studies Packed with computer drawings sketches models and photographs this will be an ideal resource of ideas for students in their studio work as well as for practicing architects Environment and Planning, 2006 Journal of urban planning and design Publishes research in the application of formal methods methods models and theories to spatial problems involving the built environment and the spatial structure of cities and regions Includes the application of computers to planning and design in particular the use of shape grammars artificial intelligence and morphological methods to buildings and towns the use of multimedia and GIS in urban and regional planning and the development of ideas concerning the virtual city Communication & Cognition, 2003 The Futurist, 1976 Frederick Kiesler Shirley Haines-Cooke, 2009 The material for this book has been taken from the 2006 thesis Frederick Kiesler TM s Art of This Century in New York 1942 1947 in the Context of the Twentieth Century Art Museum The prime objective was to establish why so few people remember Art of This Century which Kiesler designed for Peggy Guggenheim in 1942 and she ruthlessly closed in 1947 A second aim was to investigate why there has been so research carried out on the Gallery when it was acknowledged as a work of art in its own right at the time of opening Indeed in 2004 Thomas Krens the Guggenheim Foundation TM s director expressed concern that due to the lack of research it might slip into oblivion Such a statement raises questions as to why it has taken the Guggenheim Foundation over half a century to resurrect Art of This Century in the form of two exhibitions held in

Frankfurt and Venice or instigate its own research The book opens with an historical account of the development of the modern art museum as well as an overview of Kiesler TM s life and multidisciplinary oeuvre His association with selected contemporary architectural theorists and architects is looked at to establish whether they had any influence on his eclectic thinking This is followed by a summary of Kiesler TM s manifesto On Correalism and Biotechnique A Definition of a New Approach to Building Design 1937 1939 The main body of the work is a detailed description of Art of This Century The notion that Kiesler TM s innovative theories and designs might be better understood in a twenty first century architectural context is finally explored This book finally restores Frederick Kiesler to his rightful place in the history of twentieth century art and architecture By a careful analysis of his sometimes fraught collaboration with the mercurial Peggy Guggenheim Haines Cooke uncovers the fascinating story of Kiesler TM s ground breaking new vision for the display of abstract art rendered all the more poignant by its significant yet largely subliminal influence on much of the best in recent museum and gallery architecture Dr Jonathan Hale University of Nottingham
