Unicity:

The State of Unicity Nancy Klos, University of Winnipeg. Institute of Urban Studies, 1998 In 1972 a new form of municipal government known as Unicity was established in the Greater Winnipeg area establishing the City of Winnipeg as one unified city incorporating 12 former municipalities and replacing the two tier metropolitan system established in 1960 This report presents the proceedings of a conference to mark the 25th anniversary of Winnipeg s unified civic government and to revisit this important event in post war Canadian urban reform More importantly the conference examined the present state of local government in Winnipeg and other municipalities as well as the future of urban governance Issues examined in the proceedings include municipal democracy citizen participation municipal amalgamation provincial municipal relations government accountability and representativeness and urban development

Lacan in Public Christian Lundberg, 2012-11-26 Lacan in Public argues that Lacan s contributions to the theory of rhetoric are substantial and revolutionary and that rhetoric is in fact the central concern of Lacan s entire body of work Scholars typically cite Jacques Lacan as a thinker primarily concerned with issues of desire affect politics and pleasure And though Lacan explicitly contends with some of the pivotal thinkers in the field of rhetoric rhetoricians have been hesitant to embrace the French thinker both because his writing is difficult and because Lacan s conception of rhetoric runs counter to the American traditions of rhetoric in composition and communication studies Lacan s conception of rhetoric Christian Lundberg argues in Lacan in Public upsets and extends the received wisdom of American rhetorical studies that rhetoric is a science rather than an art that rhetoric is predicated not on the reciprocal exchange of meanings but rather on the impossibility of such an exchange and that rhetoric never achieves a correspondence with the real world circumstances it attempts to describe As Lundberg shows Lacan s work speaks directly to conversations at the center of current rhetorical scholarship including debates regarding the nature of the public and public discourses the materiality of rhetoric and agency and the contours of a theory of persuasion

Memory, Consciousness and Temporality Gianfranco Dalla Barba, 2001-09-30 Memory Consciousness and Temporality presents the argument that current memory theories are undermined by two false assumptions the memory trace paradox and the fallacy of the homunculus In these pages Gianfranco Dalla Barba introduces a hypothesis the Memory Consciousness and Temporality MCT hypothesis on the relationship between memory and consciousness that is not undermined by these assumptions and further demonstrates how MCT can account for a variety of memory disorders and phenomena With a unique approach intended to conjugate phenomenological analysis and recent neuropsychological data the author makes an important contribution to our understanding of the central issues in current cognitive science and cognitive neuroscience

Merger Mania Andrew Sancton, Westmount (Québec), 2000 The idea that merging municipalities will improve local services and economic competitiveness has its roots deep in the nineteenth century Municipalities in the US were first merged as early as 1848 However despite being merged at the turn of the twentieth the city of New York was effectively bankrupt by 1975 In contrast metropolitan Boston often seen as a recent success story in global competition comprises 282 distinct municipalities Outside the United States forced municipal mergers were a popular policy in many European countries and Canadian provinces during the 1960s and 1970s The city of Laval just north of Montreal and the unicity of Winnipeg owe their origins to this period both amalgamations failed to meet their original objectives Despite the emergence of public choice theory which justifies municipal fragmentation on market principles some politicians and public servants in the 1990s have continued to advocate municipal amalgamations as a means of reducing public expenditure particularly in Ontario In Merger Mania Andrew Sancton demonstrates that this approach has generally not saved money He examines the history of amalgamation as well as studying recent forced municipal mergers in Halifax Toronto Ottawa Hamilton and Sudbury In the concluding chapter he examines the case for municipal amalgamation on the Island of Montreal and argues that those who would abolish locally elected municipal councils are obligated to explain very carefully especially in light of evidence to the contrary exactly why they think such drastic measures are necessary A compelling examination of a timely issue Merger Mania is a must read for anyone interested in the politics of city governments Andrew Sancton is professor of political science at University of Western Ontario and the author of several books on city politics
