Concerns of Child

Joshua seems to be anti-social with his peers at day care, and seems generally uninterested in activities. Joshua prefers to be by himself, which is affecting social development, according to caregivers.

Feelings of Child

When prompted, Joshua responded that he does not like others, and that they are "weird." He did not answer many questions, and instead kept his head down. Appears unbothered.

Objective

Toys Used

Action figures in town set

Play Themes

- Lack of attachment
- Controlling
- Messing
- General negative interactions

Verbal Themes

- Boredom

Changes in Play Behavior

Play became more negative when I attempted to interfere with his scene. Joshua did not appreciate outside input, and preferred to control the scene himself, despite lack of interest.

Limits Set

- The buildings are not made to be destroyed

Assessment

Joshua used action figures to play a scene within a town set. He demonstrated a lack of attachment, expressing boredom, and made a mess of the scene with lack of care. He controlled the elements, and wouldn't let me interfere.

Plan

Joshua demonstrates clear anti-social and detachment issues, with a general lack of interest. He can withdraw if feeling threatened, such as my interference, and so it is recommended that Joshua sees me next week to evaluate child therapy options.

Beginning with an overview of the important considerations unique to providers working with children, Amy Marschall offers guidance on all aspects of clinical documentation, such as intakes, treatment plans, mental status examinations, progress notes, safety plans, and more. Each chapter includes specific examples of clinical situations with guidance on how to document these situations effectively. With chapters on client confidentiality and telehealth, as well as special attention being paid to cultural awareness, including race, ethnicity, gender, sexual orientation, and socioeconomic status, this book includes blank templates of treatment plans, progress notes, and risk assessments for therapists to use in their practice.
