

CHAPTER 2

INTRODUCTION TO COMMERCE: What is production?

Production is the provision of goods and services, which satisfy the needs and wants of human beings.

Production covers all activities that contribute to the satisfaction of the consumers' demand for goods and services.

From the moment people are born till death, they want things. The basic wants of people are referred to as human needs. Human needs are goods and services, which a person cannot do without such as food, shelter, clothes, water and air.

Goods and services that a person can do without such as a car, television set, lip stick, music etc are referred to as human wants.

People's desires for more goods and services increase as they satisfy other wants. Furthermore, tastes for food, cars, clothes, music, cars etc differ from one individual to another. Therefore all kinds of goods and services must be produced in order to satisfy the needs and wants of all people.

Production of goods and services that satisfy the needs and wants of people are classified into three main types of industry, commerce and direct services.

1 Industry

Industry is concerned with the actual making of goods by extracting raw materials from natural resources and then processing them into finished goods which people are able to use to their satisfaction.

Industry is subdivided into primary and secondary production.

a) Primary industry (or extractive industry)

Primary industry is concerned with extracting of raw materials from natural resources. Examples of extractive industries are mining, fishing, farming, drilling, lumbering etc. Extractive industry is the first stage in the chain of production of goods.

Consumers use some raw materials like fruits and vegetables in raw forms but most raw materials are processed before use.

b) Secondary industry (or Manufacturing/Constructive industry)

Secondary production is concerned with the processing of raw materials produced in primary production (or extractive industry) into semi or finished goods that people are able to use to satisfy their needs and wants.

Secondary production is the second stage in the production process.
