Journal of Travel Research ,2006-08      MARSH THE WORLD # 1 RISK SPECIALIST ,2004      Journal of Contemporary Criminal Justice ,2007-08      Race, Politics, and Community Development in U.S. Cities James Jennings,2004-07 As U S cities compete for economic resources many city leaders adopt business friendly policies which boost opportunities for big businesses and institutions in their area This progrowth strategy proposes to generate jobs for residents and higher tax revenues for local government As a result according to the logic of progrowth economic benefits will trickle down to improve the living conditions in working class and impoverished neighborhoods In spite of this strategy poverty rates among urban Latinos and Blacks is staggering even in cities that have pursued neoliberal policies These progrowth strategies seem to have had little or no impact on resolving problems like poverty unemployment homelessness and the alienation of youth from communities of color Community development has been and continues to be a response to these kinds of problems But local political struggles can determine the direction of community development towards neighborhood empowerment and representation of neighborhood interests versus community development on behalf of progrowth policies This issue of the ANNALS examines the interplay between progrowth politics community development and race It goes well beyond a broad brushstroke of the topic and examines several specific cities and how they have implemented these strategies and their impact on impoverished populations and race relations By using concrete examples the authors discuss how community development fits or does not fit within the framework of progrowth policies and politics The volume covers several important themes Community development is not politically neutral and must be discussed within a broad political economic and even global context Local politics play a major role in determining the direction nature and possibilities of community development A high level and sustained community participation is crucial for the representation of low income urban neighborhoods in cities pursuing progrowth policies Race remains a fundamental issue I city politics and influences the political interplay between progrowth strategies and community development Utilizing information and analysis across several disciplines this issue offers important research for students scholars and practitioners in areas of political science economics sociology urban studies and race relations      Government Laboratory Technology Transfer Sally Rood,2018-02-06 This title was first published in 2000 Due to budget cuts and competitiveness pressures determining the outcome of technology transfer from government R D laboratories to private industry and entrepreneurial start ups is of increasing interest This book presents a series of case studies of successful technology transfer by examining the same list of topics for each case It presents a format for analyzing the cases topic by topic a methodology that could be used by any R D laboratory The book also goes one step further and compares the cases that took place prior to national technology transfer legislation with those cases that took place after passage of such legislation An additional feature is the summary of existing attempts to measure and evaluate technology transfer This follows a background section on the technology policy context

The analysis finds that there is a significant commercial impact from government laboratory transfer using this approach

Intended for writing instructors and those interested in composition research who do not have extensive empirical training Composition Research explains ten of the most common empirical designs used in the social sciences Illustrating each design with examples from two or three composition studies it will enable instructors to distinguish between strong and weak empirical studies on writing The book also features a bibliography of composition studies for each design a chapter on measurement a list of measurement instruments for composition an appendix on statistical analyses and a glossary of technical terms and symbols    Educational Administration Abstracts ,2003    Positive Development Christopher Peterson,2004 How can we promote the mental health of adolescents Although there have been decades of work focusing on eliminating or reducing psychological problems in children and adolescents through psychopathology clinical psychology and psychiatry isn t the ultimate goal for children to be safe healthy happy moral and fully engaged in life The papers in this special issue of The ANNALS depart from the tradition of a disease based model where well being is defined by the absence of distress and disorder Although the authors recognize that decreasing negative aspects is an important step in promoting health among children and teens they challenge the conventional approaches and call for increased attention to the positive aspect of human development The articles in this issue are an important addition to the Annenberg Foundation Trust at Sunnylands call for an Adolescent Mental Health Initiative which was a series of conferences in 2003 at the University of Pennsylvania This further one commission led by Martin Seligman was created to address positive youth development and its relevance to adolescent mental health Providing a dramatic shift in perspective these papers include innovative research topics and offer a solid framework for the idea of positive youth development including the history of positive youth development highlights of effective positive youth programs evaluation studies of a variety of interventions examples of theory based interventions and more Scholars students practitioners and policymakers in the child and adolescent field will find this issue of The ANNALS a critical resource It offers a refreshing position that emphasizes positive human development and strives toward the vision of young people who are satisfied with their life who have identified their talents and use them in a variety of fulfilling pursuits and who are contributing members of our society    ECSA Review ,2000    Anthropology
