

Chapter 4: Algebraic Expressions and Equations

Algebraic expressions and equations are fundamental tools in mathematics. They allow us to represent relationships between quantities and solve for unknown values. This chapter explores the properties and manipulation of these expressions and equations.

4.1. Algebraic Expressions

An algebraic expression is a mathematical phrase that can contain ordinary numbers, arithmetic operations, and variables. For example, $3x + 5$ is an algebraic expression. The variables in an expression represent unknown values.

Expressions can be simplified by combining like terms. Like terms are terms that have the same variables raised to the same powers. For example, in the expression $2x + 3x + 4$, $2x$ and $3x$ are like terms and can be combined to $5x$.

Expressions can also be factored. Factoring involves writing an expression as a product of simpler expressions. For example, the expression $x^2 - 4$ can be factored as $(x + 2)(x - 2)$.

Example:

Example: Simplify the expression $2x^2 + 3x - 5x + 7$.
