Critical-Care Nurses' Perceived Leadership Practices, Organizational Commitment, and Job Satisfaction Ngozi I. Moneke, 2016-12-28 My writing of this book has evolved over the past thirty six years of professional nursing practice These were my first efforts as an author which were published in 2013 Promoting a Culture of Safety Preventing Central Line Infections in Weill Cornell Medical Center which used a performance improvement process to lower the rate at which critically ill patients in cardiac care developed central line infections and Factors Influencing Critical Nurses Perception of their Overall Job Satisfaction An Empirical Study which used a correctional approach and was statistically analyzed to determine the perception of critical care nurses of their manager s leadership style and its effect on their job satisfaction Having been on the receiving end of leadership behaviors gave me a firsthand opportunity to observe these diverse nurse leaders at both extremes of the spectrum from laissez faire leadership style to dictatorial leadership style and everything in between Each encounter has enriched my life immeasurably My personal and professional experiences as well as the knowledge I gained from completing my dissertation all compelled me to write this book to share with novice managers and those aspiring for a leadership role an awareness and provide them with some valuable information needed as they forge their career paths into a leadership role knowing that one of the keys to effective leadership is the ability to stay intellectually curious and committed to learning with the understanding that new knowledge can come from variety of sources and to make it a point of duty to be always on a lookout for new knowledge Culture and Environment ,2019-07-01

The inspiration for this book arose out of a large international conference the ninth World Environmental Education Congress WEEC organized under the theme of Culture Environment Similarly the theme for this book focuses on the Culture Environment nexus The book is divided into two parts Part 1 consists of a series of research studies from an eclectic selection of researchers from all corners of the globe Part 2 consists of a series of case studies of practice selected from a wide diversity of K Postsecondary educators The intent behind these selections is to augment and highlight the diversity of both cultural method and cultural voice in our descriptions of environmental education practice The chapters focus on a multi disciplinary view of Environmental Education with a developing view that Culture and Environment may be inseparable and arise from and within each other Cultural change is also a necessary condition and a requirement to rebuild and reinvent our relationship with nature and to live more sustainably The chapters address the spirit of supporting our praxis and are therefore directed towards both an educator and researcher audience Each chapter describes original research or curriculum development work
