John Julian

Tonic Sol Fa For Christian Songs:

Music and Theology in Nineteenth-Century Britain Martin Clarke, 2016-04-22 The interrelationship of music and theology is a burgeoning area of scholarship in which conceptual issues have been explored by musicologists and theologians including Jeremy Begbie Quentin Faulkner and Jon Michael Spencer Their important work has opened up opportunities for focussed critical studies of the ways in which music and theology can be seen to interact in specific repertoires genres and institutions as well as the work of particular composers religious leaders and scholars This collection of essays explores such areas in relation to the religious musical and social history of nineteenth century Britain The book does not simply present a history of sacred music of the period but examines the role of music in the diverse religious life of a century that encompassed the Oxford Movement Catholic Emancipation religious revivals involving many different denominations the production of several landmark hymnals and greater legal recognition for religions other than Christianity The book therefore provides a valuable guide to the music of this complex historical period

Hymns and Constructions of Race Erin Johnson-Williams, Philip Burnett, 2024-02-07 Hymns and Constructions of Race Mobility Agency De Coloniality examines how the hymn historically and today has reinforced negotiated and resisted constructions of race It brings together diverse perspectives from musicology ethnomusicology theology anthropology performance studies history and postcolonial scholarship to show how the hymn has perpetuated generated and challenged racial identities The global range of contributors cover a variety of historical and geographical contexts with case studies from China and Brazil to Suriname and South Africa They explore the hymn as a product of imperialism and settler colonialism and as a vehicle for sonic oppression and or resistance within and beyond congregational settings The volume contends that the lived tradition of hymn singing with its connections to centuries of global Christian mission is a particularly apt lens for examining both local and global negotiations of race power and identity It will be relevant for scholars interested in religion music race and postcolonialism
