A First Course in the Numerical Analysis of Differential Equations A. Iserles, 1996-01-18 Numerical analysis presents different faces to the world For mathematicians it is a bona fide mathematical theory with an applicable flavour For scientists and engineers it is a practical applied subject part of the standard repertoire of modelling techniques For computer scientists it is a theory on the interplay of computer architecture and algorithms for real number calculations The tension between these standpoints is the driving force of this book which presents a rigorous account of the fundamentals of numerical analysis of both ordinary and partial differential equations The point of departure is mathematical but the exposition strives to maintain a balance between theoretical algorithmic and applied aspects of the subject In detail topics covered include numerical solution of ordinary differential equations by multistep and Runge Kutta methods finite difference and finite elements techniques for the Poisson equation a variety of algorithms to solve large sparse algebraic systems methods for parabolic and hyperbolic differential equations and techniques of their analysis The book is accompanied by an appendix that presents brief back up in a number of mathematical topics Dr Iserles concentrates on fundamentals deriving methods from first principles analysing them with a variety of mathematical techniques and occasionally discussing questions of implementation and applications By doing so he is able to lead the reader to theoretical understanding of the subject without neglecting its practical aspects The outcome is a textbook that is mathematically honest and rigorous and provides its target audience with a wide range of skills in both ordinary and partial differential equations

Handbook of Quantitative Thinking Sixtus Kage, 2024-06-07 This Handbook of Quantitative Thinking provides an interconnected and unusually thorough look at the world around us From small things such as soap bubbles to big things such as ships and buildings quantitative questions are posed and answered in comprehensive case studies When necessary rough estimates are provided How much soap is in a soap bubble What is the volume and the weight of the water film enclosing a soap bubble What is the thickness of a line drawn with a pencil How many carbon dioxide molecules does a burning candle produce per photon of visible light emitted How many sugar cubes can keep you alive for 90 days How much oxygen does a field tree produce per year How many shiploads of liquefied natural gas LNG would Germany need per year if all central heating units ran on gas imported from overseas By how much is a church tower shorter owing to the compression of the bricks and the mortar under the weight of the structure How much energy is needed globally for making bread and cooking rice How does that figure relate to Germany's total energy demand Since they are deeply interested in the physical world around them children physicists and engineers will surely like the questions raised in this book and the answers given Future consultants may have to answer questions like the following ones in job interviews What is a needle in a haystack in ppm or ppb How many trees per year do you need to supply a country with toothpicks The book also contains an index of quantitative data occurring in the case studies and in other sources sorted by type and magnitude The bibliography alerts the readers to a multitude of
