Common Enemies Thomas F. Schaller, 2021-11 During the 1980s Black athletes and other athletes of color broadened the popularity and profitability of major college televised sports by infusing games with a Black style of play At a moment ripe for a revolution in men's college basketball and football clashes between good guy white protagonists and bombastic bad boy Black antagonists attracted new fans and spectators And no two teams in the 1980s welcomed the enemy's role more than Georgetown Hoya basketball and Miami Hurricane football Georgetown and Miami taunted opponents They celebrated scores and victories with in your face swagger Coaches at both programs changed the tenor of postgame media appearances and the language journalists and broadcasters used to describe athletes Athletes of color at both schools made sports apparel fashionable for younger fans particularly young African American men The Hoyas and the Canes were a sensation because they made the bad boy image look good Popular culture took notice In the United States sports and race have always been tightly if sometimes uncomfortably entwined Black athletes who dare to challenge the sporting status quo are often initially vilified but later accepted The 1980s generation of barrier busting college athletes took this process a step further True to form Georgetown's and Miami's aggressive style of play angered many fans and commentators But in time their style was not only accepted but imitated by others both Black and white Love them or hate them there was simply no way you could deny the Hoyas and the Hurricanes Disco Days: a Social History of the 1970'S Richard T. Stanley, 2015-06-19 By 1972

President Richard Nixon had reached the heights of political power and popularity only to self destruct due to his role in a third rate burglary called Watergate Nixon resigned in disgrace and for the first time in history Americans came to be led by an unelected President and Vice President Gerald Ford and Nelson Rockefeller But Americans had much more on their minds than mere politics movies TV sports earning a living etc Hollywood motion pictures including The Godfather Jaws and Star Wars captured their imaginations while weekly TV shows such as All in the Family and Happy Days made them laugh and Monday Night Football kept their competitive juices flowing To no ones surprise UCLA continued to win NCAA basketball championships and such schools as Alabama Arkansas Michigan Nebraska Notre Dame Oklahoma Penn State Texas and USC remained dominant on the gridiron And professional sports thanks to such super stars as Billie Jean King Kareem Abdul Jabbar Henry Aaron Jack Nicklaus Muhammad Ali Al Unser and Terry Bradshaw became more popular than ever But who could have predicted at the beginning of the decade that a young high school dropout named John Travolta and a band called the Bees Gees would become the kings of Disco Dancing Or that a peanut farmer from Georgia would be elected President during our Bicentennial Year The Ultimate Book of March Madness Tom Hager, 2012-10-21 The Ultimate Book of March Madness explores the stories behind each NCAA basketball tournament and highlights the 100 greatest games in tournament history Jackie Robinson Matt Christopher, Glenn Stout, 2009-12-02 The story of legendary Jackie Robinson the first African American to play major league baseball is recounted in this title Illinois Media Guide, Women's Basketball, 2004 The Blue and Gold, 1944 Wooden: A Coach's Life Seth Davis, 2014-01-14 A provocative and revelatory new biography of the legendary UCLA coach John Wooden by one of America's top college basketball writers. No college basketball coach has ever dominated the sport like John Wooden. His UCLA teams reached unprecedented heights in the 1960s and 70s capped by a run of ten NCAA championships in twelve seasons and an eighty-eight game winning streak records that stand to this day. Wooden also became a renowned motivational speaker and writer revered for his Pyramid of Success. Seth Davis of Sports Illustrated and CBS Sports has written the definitive biography of Wooden an unflinching portrait that draws on archival research and more than two hundred interviews with players opponents coaches and even Wooden himself. Davis shows how hard Wooden strove for success from his All American playing days at Purdue through his early years as a high school and college coach to the glory days at UCLA only to discover that reaching new heights brought new burdens and frustrations. Davis also reveals how at the pinnacle of his career Wooden found himself on questionable ground with alumni referees assistants and even some of his players. His was a life not only of lessons taught but also of lessons learned. Woven into the story as well are the players who powered Wooden's championship teams Kareem Abdul Jabbar Bill Walton Walt Hazzard and others many of whom speak frankly about their coach. The portrait that emerges from Davis's remarkable biography is of a man in full whose life story still resonates today.
