Memory, Consciousness and Temporality Gianfranco Dalla Barba,2001-09-30 Memory Consciousness and Temporality presents the argument that current memory theories are undermined by two false assumptions the memory trace paradox and the fallacy of the homunculus In these pages Gianfranco Dalla Barba introduces a hypothesis the Memory Consciousness and Temporality MCT hypothesis on the relationship between memory and consciousness that is not undermined by these assumptions and further demonstrates how MCT can account for a variety of memory disorders and phenomena With a unique approach intended to conjugate phenomenological analysis and recent neuropsychological data the author makes an important contribution to our understanding of the central issues in current cognitive science and cognitive neuroscience

Merger Mania Andrew Sancton,Westmount (Québec),2000 The idea that merging municipalities will improve local services and economic competitiveness has its roots deep in the nineteenth century Municipalities in the US were first merged as early as 1848 However despite being merged at the turn of the twentieth the city of New York was effectively bankrupt by 1975 In contrast metropolitan Boston often seen as a recent success story in global competition comprises 282 distinct municipalities Outside the United States forced municipal mergers were a popular policy in many European countries and Canadian provinces during the 1960s and 1970s The city of Laval just north of Montreal and the unicity of Winnipeg owe their origins to this period both amalgamations failed to meet their original objectives Despite the emergence of public choice theory which justifies municipal fragmentation on market principles some politicians and public servants in the 1990s have continued to advocate municipal amalgamations as a means of reducing public expenditure particularly in Ontario In Merger Mania Andrew Sancton demonstrates that this approach has generally not saved money He examines the history of amalgamation as well as studying recent forced municipal mergers in Halifax Toronto Ottawa Hamilton and Sudbury In the concluding chapter he examines the case for municipal amalgamation on the Island of Montreal and argues that those who would abolish locally elected municipal councils are obligated to explain very carefully especially in light of evidence to the contrary exactly why they think such drastic measures are necessary A compelling examination of a timely issue Merger Mania is a must read for anyone interested in the politics of city governments Andrew Sancton is professor of political science at University of Western Ontario and the author of several books on city politics
