Excellence in Public Relations and Communication Management James E. Grunig, 2013-10-18 This book is the initial volume coming out of the excellence project a comprehensive research effort commissioned by the IABC International Association of Business Communicators Research Foundation The purpose of this project was to answer two fundamental questions about public relations What are the characteristics of an excellent communication department How does excellent public relations make an organization more effective and how much is that contribution worth economically The research team began its work with a thorough review of the literature in public relations and related disciplines relevant to these questions What started as a literature review however has ended in a general theory of public relations one that integrates most of the wide range of ideas about and practices of communication management in organizations The Future of Excellence in Public Relations and Communication Management Elizabeth L. Toth, 2009-03-04 The Future of Excellence in Public Relations and Communication Management brings together an outstanding group of public relations scholars and practitioners to consider the indelible theory building in public relations of James E Grunig and Larissa A Grunig who with David M Dozier produced the 1992 IABC Excellence Study a benchmark body of work examining best practices in the public relations field In this assembled collection editor Elizabeth L Toth and the contributors show how and in what ways the theories of the Excellence Study have developed and changed They present research that advances excellence theories adds new dimensions and directions to the excellence theories and shows how the excellence study has moved on to a global stage Toth and her colleagues challenge future researchers to continue the theory building that will lead to understand how strategic public relations management contributes to organizations and society Public relations and communication management scholars in addition to practitioners and graduate students studying these areas will benefit immensely from the work included here Manager's Guide to Excellence in Public Relations and Communication Management David M. of the communication department the shared expectations of top communicators and senior managers about the function and role of communication and the organization's culture the larger context that either nurtures or impedes communication excellence This text also examines communication excellence as demonstrated in specific programs developed for specific publics

A. van Ruler, Krishnamurthy Sriramesh, 2008-05-08 Introduction Sriramesh Van Ruler Zerfaß Krishnamurthy Sriramesh Betteke van Ruler Ansgar Zerfaß One could make a reasonable argument that public relations is an ancient practice going back millennia although it has been popularly perceived as a 20th century phenomenon Scholarship in public relations however is more recent in origin with a history of less than four decades During these formative years the body of knowledge has expanded significantly which is laudable However there is potential for growth and improvement in many areas of the public relations literature Over the decades among other things public relations scholarship has largely remained parochial to specific regions such as the United States the United Kingdom Latin America German speaking Europe etc as evidenced in the bibliographic references of many essays in this volume itself where authors predominantly cite work from their own regions This is often necessitated by linguistic differences with only English serving as the universal language that helps permeate knowledge through most regions Pedagogical and methodological factors also have played a role in the regionalization of the body of knowledge However we believe that knowledge flows most when it is shared across different kinds of barriers Globalization has made it essential for us to recognize this reality more than ever This volume tries to bridge the gap and presents theories and concepts from researchers around the world Ethics in Public Relations Kathy Fitzpatrick, Carolyn Bronstein, 2006-05-03 This is an intelligent book about serious issues in public relations accountability responsibility transparency loyalty truth-telling and fairness It should be required reading in boardrooms in PR classrooms and at the Pentagon Jay Black Editor Journal of Mass Media Ethics Ethics in Public Relations fills an important need at a time when the credibility of public relations and some public relations practitioners and public relations firms is under attack In a manner that is never preachy or dogmatic Fitzpatrick and Bronstein have put together a series of essays that have application across the public relations spectrum They are sure to be informative and instructive both to long time professionals and candidates for entry level positions Harold Burson Founding Chairman Burson Marsteller This book is both highly readable and long overdue Fitzpatrick and Bronstein have produced a thoughtful thorough and very practical look at the ethical dimensions of public relations not just in theory but in everyday practice The essays are sharp witty on point and highly pragmatic Their examples are relevant their anecdotes purposeful Given the state of the profession these days it is difficult to see how students of public relations could call themselves current without first reading this smart collection of essays James S O'Rourke IV Professor and Director The Eugene D Fanning Center for Business Communication University of Notre Dame Fitzpatrick and Bronstein have for every public relations professional established a foundation to practice advocacy ethically Practice settings may change but Fitzpatrick and Bronstein demonstrate that the individual professional has an ongoing ethical imperative to advocate responsibly Fitzpatrick's discussion of the PRSA Code of Ethics concept of advocacy which she helped draft breaks new and helpful ground bringing clarity and substance to this crucial ingredient of most public relations practice James E Lukaszewski Chairman and President The Lukaszewski Group Inc Ethics in Public Relations Responsible Advocacy is the first book to identify universal principles of responsible advocacy in public relations In this engaging book editors Kathy Fitzpatrick and Carolyn Bronstein bring together prominent authorities in the field to address theoretic and practical issues that illustrate the broad scope and complexity of responsible advocacy in 21st century public relations The collection explores such matters as the fragile line between ethical and legal public relations practices ethical challenges in building relationships with increasingly diverse publics the requirements of ethical advocacy online ethical accountability in organizational settings the special ethical obligations of nonprofit groups and ethical mandates in cross border public relations
