Communities and Biomes

Reinforcement and Study Guide

Section 3.1 Communities

In your notebook, read about living in a community.

Determine if the statement is true. If it is not, rewrite the italicized part to make it true.

- The interaction of abiotic and biotic factors result in conditions that are suitable for some organisms but not for others. _____
- Food availability and temperature can be biotic factors for a particular organism. _____
- A limiting factor is any biotic or abiotic factor that promotes the existence, numbers, reproduction, or distribution of organisms. _____
- At high elevations where the soil is thin, vegetation is limited to large, deep-rooted trees. _____
- Factors that limit one population in a community may also have an indirect effect on another population. _____
- Tolerance is the ability of an organism to withstand fluctuations in biotic and abiotic environmental factors. _____
- A population of deer would become larger as conditions move away from optimal toward either extreme of the deer's range of tolerance. _____
- Different species may have different ranges of tolerance. _____

In your notebook, read about succession: change over time.

Use each of the terms below just once to complete the passage.

climate

The natural changes and (90) _____ replacements that take place in the communities of ecosystems are known as (91) _____. It can take (92) _____, or even centuries for one community to (93) _____, or replace, another. When new sites of land are formed, as in a lava flow, the first organisms to colonize the new area are (94) _____ species. This colonization is called (95) _____ succession. The species inhabiting the area gradually change. Eventually, succession (96) _____ and the community becomes more stable. Finally, a mature community that undergoes little or no change, called a (97) _____ community, develops.
