population

Some characteristics that all populations have include (1) population density

(2) population size and (3) dispersion. Population density is measured by number of individuals per unit area, including, and not being, population size.

Population size is the total number of individuals in a population. Density, the total population divided by total area, is total population.

Compare methods used about population characteristics.

Compare methods by marking the correct column. (Use the key provided.)

Characteristic	Direct Observation	Survey Methods
(1) Comprehensive census		X
(2) Direct observation for a population	X
(3) Sampling method		X
(4) Indirect for a population		X
(5) Compare the results of studies	X

Characteristics of four types of the census in table, include the indicated form of dispersion used in 1-4.

(1) Population density (continuous & population size in every individual)

None

(2) Direct observation for a specific population

Even dispersion

(3) Indirect for a population of individuals

Even dispersion

(4) Comparison across all studies or between populations
