Dharmaraja College:

Men and Their Mission Jessica A. Albrecht, 2026-02-07 This book engages with masculinity in modern and contemporary Buddhism in Sri Lanka 1850 today through the lens of exemplary male religious leaders politicians and the culture of boys education since the late nineteenth century Through mixed methods archival and original historical source material such as newspapers school archives oral history and ethnography this book analyses the dynamic power structures of hegemonic masculinity within this hegemonic religious context of Buddhist nationalism in Sri Lanka The book adds to existing scholarship through a new perspective and approach as well as new material and new connections drawn between that material It is a perfect read for scholars working in the intersection of gender religion and power The Theosophist, 1908

List of Members Historical Association (Great Britain), 1927 Producing Religion, Gender and National Identities in Sri Lankan Elite Girls' Schools Jessica A. Albrecht, 2026-02-05 This book provides the first comparative analysis of how religious gender and national identities have been constructed in Christian Buddhist and Hindu girls schools in Sri Lanka in the context of colonial histories and postcolonial struggles Attended by the children of the socio political elite the Sri Lanka s girls schools in this study have a significant impact on the country s political cultural and religious life as their graduates carry the values they were taught beyond these institutions doors into society Combining archival research with ethnographic fieldwork Jessica Albrecht examines how narratives of the past including the Aryan myth the story of the Sinhala Buddhist role model Sister Sanghamitta and ideas of womanhood from the Saivite reform movement continue to shape religious and national identities in these schools today She integrates perspectives from religious postcolonial and gender studies to show that these institutions play a dual role while they empower women they also reinforce patriarchal nationalist and colonial ideologies By contrasting Buddhist Hindu and Christian schools this book illuminates how ideas about gender womanhood and the nation have differed across religiously diverse educational institutions from colonial times to today while sharing an entangled history In this way it contributes to our understanding of Sri Lanka s complex religious and educational landscape and draws attention to the often overlooked role that women play in the making of religious and national identities in South Asia Annual Report Historical Association (Great Britain), 1921 The Maha-Bodhi, 1916
