be brutally executed unless Odd can intervene in time Who the potential victims are and where they can be found remain a mystery The only thing Odd knows for sure is who the killer will be the homicidal stranger who tried to shoot him dead in a small town parking lot With the ghost of Alfred Hitchcock riding shotgun and a network of unlikely allies providing help along the way Odd embarks on an interstate game of cat and mouse with his sinister quarry He will soon learn that his adversary possesses abilities that may surpass his own and operates in service to infinitely more formidable foes with murder a mere prelude to much deeper designs Traveling across a landscape haunted by portents of impending catastrophe Odd will do what he must and go where his path leads him drawing ever closer to the dark heart of his long journey and perhaps to the bright light beyond

Veterans' Narratives Nick Caddick, 2024-08-31 The Cultural Politics of Veterans Narratives investigates the role of veterans stories in our collective cultural and political life Drawing on contemporary narrative theory it offers a conceptual framework for studying veterans narratives followed by a series of unique empirical chapters dealing with different genres of veteran storytelling including trauma transition culture and identity and the Afghanistan war memoir The book questions the British veteran as a political figure exploring what their stories tell us about the morality and politics of war as well as military life It also traces how social norms about militarism nationalism and patriotism pivot as a result Caddick considers what the stakes

Animal Fashions Audrey Murfin, Victoria Pettersen Lantz, Sibyl Bucheli, 2026-01-17 This book examines material artifacts that inhabit the intersection between fashion colonialism and biological specimen collection More broadly this book demonstrates the significance of animal fashion in the nineteenth century its relation to the Victorian imperial project and the way the female body has been used to display the exploitation of natural resources as a product of colonialism By adorning the female body with natural specimens the Victorians and nineteenth century high society showed mastery over the areas from which the animals were collected and women's bodies became simultaneously both the object possessed and the canvas for a display of colonial wealth This interdisciplinary collection crosses the humanities the arts and the sciences and is thus uniquely positioned to examine the nexus of cultural studies and scientific discourse by contextualizing fashion as representative of popular culture feminine ideals and scientific advancement
