Urban riverbanks are attractive locations and highly prized recreational environments. The designs of urban river landscapes must fulfill a broad range of requirements: flood control, open space design, and ecology are, as a rule, the three dominant themes, and they must often be reconciled within a very restricted space. The river must be understood as a process governed by changing water levels, shifting seasons, erosion, and sedimentation; the river environment is not a static entity but constantly changing. The design must be flexible and take this into account. This book is the product of a multi-year study that subjected more than fifty Western European projects to a comparative analysis. The result is a systematic catalog of effective strategies and innovative design elements. First, designers and planners are given an overview of the broad and varied spectrum of design possibilities. The book's process-oriented approach is especially helpful where the focus is on long-term sustainable measures. The publication consists of two linked volumes that enable the reader to consult the systematic catalog and the case study section side by side. The easy-to-navigate structure and an extensive glossary provide further guidance, while the work's highly distinctive design makes it visually appealing as well and invites the reader to leaf through and explore it.

Constructing Worlds Alona Pardo, Elias Redstone, 2014. Architecture has long been a subject matter for photographers who utilize the medium not just to document the built world but also to reveal wider truths about society. This book features chapters devoted to various artists among them Berenice Abbott, Walker Evans, Ed Ruscha, Bernd and Hilla Becher, Andreas Gursky, and Iwan Baan and includes 220 color and duotone images. Each chapter opens with a text introducing the artist's work followed by reproductions of their photographs. Arranged chronologically, the book documents the birth of the skyscraper against the backdrop of the Great Depression, the rise of the modernist tradition in America, post-colonial Africa and India, the effects of industry on 1960s Europe, the increasing suburbanization of America and Europe, and the consequences of today's mass urbanization in Asia, the Middle East, and South America. Far-reaching and penetrating, this volume reflects on the ongoing dialogue between photography and architecture. Exhibition Barbican Art Gallery London UK 25 9 2014 11 1 2015

Cinema and Landscape Graeme Harper, Jonathan R. Rayner, 2010

The notion of landscape is a complex one but it has been central to the art and artistry of the cinema. After all, what is the French New Wave without Paris? What are the films of Sidney Lumet, Woody Allen, Martin Scorsese, and Spike Lee without New York? Cinema and Landscape frames contemporary film landscapes across the world in an exploration of screen aesthetics and national ideology, film form, and cultural geography, cinematic representation, and the human environment. Written by well-known cinema scholars, this volume both extends the existing field of film studies and stakes claims to overlapping, contested territories in the humanities and social sciences.
