Iran Revisited Ali Pirzadeh, 2016-04-20 This book examines Modern Iran through an interdisciplinary analysis of its cultural norms history and institutional environment The goal is to underline strengths and weaknesses of Iranian society as a whole and to illustrate less prescriptive explanations for the way Iran is seen through a lens of persistent collective conduct rather than erratic historical occurrences Throughout its history Iran has been subject to many studies all of which have diagnosed the country's problem and prescribed solutions based on certain theoretical grounds This book intends to look inward seeking cultural explanations for Iran's perpetual inability to improve its society The theme in this book is based on the eloquent words of Nasir Khusrau a great Iranian poet az mast ki bar mast The words are from a poem describing a self adoring eagle that sees its life abruptly ended by an arrow winged with its own feathers the bird is doomed by its own vanity The closest interpretation of this idiom in Western Christian culture is you reap what you sow which conveys a similar message that underlines one's responsibility in the sense that sooner or later we must face the choices we make This would enable us to confront and live up to what Iran's history and culture have taught us

Irish Economic Development Eoin O'Leary, 2015-02-20 This book offers a discerning narrative on the spectacular rise and fall of the so called Celtic Tiger economy It depicts Ireland as a micro state with a unique reliance on foreign assisted businesses driven in part by a favourable taxation regime It shows that rent seeking by trades unions and property developers contributed to the fall since 2002 Although the country's highly centralized government's pre disposition to lobbying has yielded international successes it has also resulted in recurring self inflicted crises since 1970 This volume shows how Ireland's export led growth is associated more with the attraction of foreign assisted businesses than with the development of critical masses of internationally competitive indigenous businesses Although the success of foreign assisted businesses in the pharmaceutical ICT and finance sectors has been influenced by tax advantages many of these businesses have been involved in highly productive activity in Ireland over a number of decades The problem of rent seeking is shown to have undermined Irish competitiveness in the internationally traded and sheltered sectors The Irish policy mind set is shown to lean towards distribution rather than growth While this has been advantageous for how Ireland Inc interacts with other governments and international businesses it has also resulted in a failure to resist the destructive effects of capture by lobbies In conclusion this book considers future opportunities offered by the EU's smart specialization policy and future threats from increased international tax competition It argues that unless Irish citizens and policymakers change deep seated attitudes and mind sets towards business development the country's performance for the next number of decades will more likely resemble serial under achievement than that of a high performing EU state
