The Menace of the Corporate Newspaper David Demers,1996 This text studies the origins and effects of the corporate form of newspaper organisation It explores the controversies surrounding corporate ownership through a review of the literature as well as by means of empirical research Mass Media and Environmental Affairs; a Case Study in Santos, Brazil Carlos Eduardo Lins da Silva,1976 A Meta-research of Mass Media Effects on Audiences in Developing Countries from 1958 Through 1986 Jo Ellen Fair,1988 History and Future of Mass Media David Demers,2007 This book argues that the no Marxists mostly have it wrong Although corporate media are structurally organized to maximize profits and produce content that generally helps elites achieve their goals this does not mean corporate media have less capacity to facilitate social change than entrepreneurial or other forms of media In fact historical evidence and comparative critical studies presented in this book show that mass media become more not less critical of dominant power groups institutions and value systems as they become more corporatized This proposition is part of a larger theoretical model that integrates the role of both social structure and human agency in explaining the persistence of modern capitalism The structural part of the theory also enables scholars to make predictions about the future of mass media including the ideas that the Internet is stealing some of the mediating power of traditional mass media and the market power of global media will grow in absolute terms but will shrink in relative terms because of increasing competition from new and traditional media JQ. Journalism Quarterly, 1994 Includes section Book reviews and other bibliographical material Structural Pluralism, Competition and the Growth of the Corporate Newspaper in the United States David Demers, 1992 On the Highway of Mass Communication Studies Veikko Pietilä, 2005 Shifting Journalistic Paradigms Joseph Man Chan, 1986 Political Ads, Communication, and Democracy Jaeho Cho, 2005 Sociological Abstracts Leo P.
