(Chapter 8) (Gravitation) (Exercises)
(Class 11)

Question 8.6:

Choose the correct alternative:

- (a) If the zero of potential energy is at infinity, the total energy of an orbiting satellite is negative of its kinetic/potential energy.
- (b) The energy required to launch an orbiting satellite out of earth's gravitational influence is more/less than the energy required to project a stationary object at the same height (as the satellite) out of earth's influence.

Answer 8.6:

- (a) Total mechanical energy of a satellite is the sum of its kinetic energy (always positive) and potential energy (may be negative). At infinity, the gravitational potential energy of the satellite is zero. As the Earth-satellite system is a bound system, the total energy of the satellite is negative. Thus, the total energy of an orbiting satellite at infinity is equal to the negative of its kinetic energy.
- (b) An orbiting satellite acquires a certain amount of energy that enables it to revolve around the Earth. This energy is provided by its orbit. It requires relatively lesser energy to move out of the influence of the Earth's gravitational field than a stationary object on the Earth's surface that initially contains no energy.

Question 8.7:

Does the escape speed of a body from the earth depend on (a) the mass of the body, (b) the location from where it is projected, (c) the direction of projection, (d) the height of the location from where the body is launched?

Answer 8.7:

- (a) The escape speed of a body from the earth doesn't depend on the mass of the body.
- (b) The escape speed of a body from the earth doesn't depend on the location from where it is projected.
- (c) The escape speed of a body from the earth doesn't depend on the direction of projection.
- (d) The escape speed of a body from the earth depends on the height of the location from where the body is launched.

Escape velocity of a body from the Earth is given by the relation:

$$v_{esc} = \sqrt{2gR} \quad \dots(i)$$

g = Acceleration due to gravity and R = Radius of the Earth.

It is clear from equation (i) that escape velocity v_{esc} is independent of the mass of the body and the direction of its projection. However, it depends on gravitational potential at the point from where the body is launched. Since this potential marginally depends on the height of the point, escape velocity also marginally depends on these factors.

Question 8.8:

A comet orbits the Sun in a highly elliptical orbit. Does the comet have a constant (a) linear speed, (b) angular speed, (c) angular momentum, (d) kinetic energy, (e) potential energy, (f) total energy throughout its orbit? Neglect any mass loss of the comet when it comes very close to the Sun.

Fundamentals of Physics,

Solutions Manual Edward Derringham, David Halliday, Robert Resnick, 1988-08-30 This third edition of the famous introductory physics text has been thoroughly revised and updated. The new edition contains two entirely new chapters: Relativity as the concluding chapter of the regular version and Particles and the Cosmos as the concluding chapter of the extended version. New also are 16 essays distributed throughout the text on applications of physics to real world topics of student interest. Each essay is self-contained and is written by an expert in the topic. The body of the text contains more help in problem solving and the chapter sections are shorter making the material more accessible. There are more photos and diagrams than before including attention getting chapter head photos and captions. The number of worked examples has been increased as has the number of questions, exercises, and problems. In addition, a thread of ideas from relativistic and quantum physics is weaved through the earlier chapters preparing the way for the later chapters.

Study Guide and Student Solutions Manual Douglas Brandt, 2000

Physics for Scientists and Engineers combines outstanding pedagogy with a clear and direct narrative and applications that draw the reader into the physics. The new edition features an unrivaled suite of media and on-line resources that enhance the understanding of physics. Many new topics have been incorporated such as the Otto cycle, lens combinations, three phase alternating current, and many more. New developments and discoveries in physics have been added including the Hubble space telescope, age and inflation of the universe, and distant planets. Modern physics topics are often discussed within the framework of classical physics where appropriate. For scientists and engineers who are interested in learning physics.

Fundamentals of Physics, Part 3, Chapters 22 - 33, Enhanced Problems Version David Halliday, Robert Resnick, 2002-04-16

The primary goal of this text is to provide students with a solid understanding of fundamental physics concepts and to help them apply this conceptual understanding to quantitative problem solving.
