Kennel-Shank, 2023-08-17 What You Sow Is a Bare Seed is a group biography that tells the stories of ordinary but extraordinary people who were engaged in movements for renewal in the church and justice in broader society. People such as Dora Koundakjian Johnson, an Armenian Lebanese linguistics scholar and activist, and Doug Huron, an attorney who won a landmark US Supreme Court civil rights case. They were among those who came together as the ecumenical Community of Christ in Washington DC, planted in the inner city in 1965 when many churches were leaving. The Community distinguished itself from the more organized church without rejecting it, as one former member says: "They believed that helping each other identify their gifts was a compelling way to shape their collective ministry beyond themselves." The Community initially intended not to own property but later bought a building and opened it up as a community center. As a final act of ministry, the Community gave its building away to a nonprofit partner when it closed in 2016, leaving a legacy that continues today.

The Royal Musical Association Leanne Langley, 2024-12-10. Charting the history of the Royal Musical Association over 150 years from scientific roots and the long resistance of British universities to music study to bringing UK musicology to worldwide recognition. This book is the first comprehensive history of the Royal Musical Association. Drawing on extensive archival material and exploring a host of colourful people, it paints an absorbing picture of scholarly achievement in Britain across 150 years. Founded in London in 1874 as a learned society for musical research, the Association emulated the venerable Royal Society in welcoming diverse backgrounds but went further by including women. Charting its scientific roots and the long resistance of British universities to music study, the narrative shows how the Association published a strong body of research independently, blossoming from 170 members in the 1870s to more than 1400 today. Early joiners included the scientists William Pole and John Tyndall, a founder of climate science, the art historian Elizabeth Eastlake, and musicians from John Stainer to Agnes Zimmermann. Their goal was to investigate and discuss music rather than perform it or give concerts. Because no member was yet trained in what would later be called musicology, the papers covered an eclectic range of scientific, ethnographic, and historical questions, broad in scope and responsive to heard music. Whether measuring acoustic phenomena, studying popular music, or deciphering manuscripts of early polyphony, the Association promoted wide engagement as well as the establishment of academic musicology. Meanwhile members including W B Squire, Edward J Dent, Thurston Dart and Stanley Sadie transformed public understanding. Their work in music library development, opera, Musica Britannica, early music criticism and music lexicography helped gain global recognition for British scholarship. With arts study under pressure in the current uncertain climate, the Association's recent concern for real world issues in diversity practice based research and the vital role of music in schools remains true to its founding spirit.

This beautifully illustrated guide is published to complement two exhibitions opening during 2007: one at the Lobkowitz Palace in Prague and the other at Nelahozeves Castle, that mark the reunification of the Lobkowitz Collections after more than 50 years. Featuring sections on paintings, rare books, music, decorative arts and hunting, and including a comprehensive study of the history of the Lobkowitz family, this is the first book to present the full scope of the collections to the public. SELLING POINTS First publication available to the general public on this renowned collection. In early 19th century Austria, the Archduke Rudolph occupied multiple roles: a noble Hapsburg by birth, a Cardinal Archbishop by career and a dedicated musician by avocation. A talented pianist and composer, Archduke Rudolph enjoyed the unique privilege of being Beethoven's only composition student, and in the two decades of studying with him produced a sizable and well-crafted body of music for piano, chamber ensemble and voice. Many of the Archduke's autograph manuscripts were corrected in detail by Beethoven, giving us fascinating insights into Beethoven's thinking on the structure and syntax of music. This comprehensive book surveys Archduke Rudolph's life and career in music, which also encompasses his significant role as music patron and collector. It is based on a study of primary sources, principally the autograph manuscripts of his compositions and sketches, and most importantly Beethoven's own autographs.
