Politics And Policy Implementation In The Third World:

Politics and Policy Implementation in the Third World Merilee S. Grindle, 2017-03-14 This book addresses the broader questions of how both the content and the context of public policy affect its implementation Through a series of case studies from Mexico Peru Brazil Colombia Zambia Kenya and India ten scholars here demonstrate that numerous factors intervene between the statement of policy goals and their actual achievement in society Originally published in 1980 The Princeton Legacy Library uses the latest print on demand technology to again make available previously out of print books from the distinguished backlist of Princeton University Press These editions preserve the original texts of these important books while presenting them in durable paperback and hardcover editions The goal of the Princeton Legacy Library is to vastly increase access to the rich scholarly heritage found in the thousands of books published by Princeton University Press since its founding in 1905

Politics and Policy Implementation in the Third World Merilee S. Grindle, Handbook on the Political Economy of Health Systems Joan Costa-Font, Alberto Batinti, Gilberto Turati, 2023-06-01 This ground breaking Handbook brings together a number of chapters into one comprehensive book on the timely subject matter of the political economy of health and health care The book contains up to date discussion on the state of the art of the key questions of the subject matter and it provides a unique understanding of health policy making by drawing on an interdisciplinary approach to political economy

Forest Certification: A Policy Perspective Chris Elliott, 2000-01-01 This paper analyses the development of certification programmes in three countries Indonesia Canada and Sweden using the Advocacy Coalition Framework ACF as a theoretical reference point The ACF is an actor based framework for analysing policy processes and has not previously been applied in a developing country Actors in the three countries took different approaches to certification In Canada in a programme development process supported by the forest products industry a management systems approach was taken In Sweden performance standards were developed in a process initially driven by NGOs In Indonesia certification was led by an NGO within a framework established by government and a performance standards approach was used The paper concludes that forest certification can be best understood as a policy instrument that promotes and facilitates policy orientated learning among actors and provides indirect incentives for improved forest management Learning occurs both as the standards to be used for certification are developed and as they are implemented The benefits of learning and consensus building among actors such as NGOs forest companies private forest owners indigenous peoples governments etc who have traditionally been in conflict with each other can be significant On the other hand where fundamental changes in forest policy such as tenure and forest revenue reform are needed certification should not be seen as a substitute for these A further conclusion is that while public policies change over periods of decades the private policies of retailers and forest product companies can adapt more rapidly to changing circumstances The concept of a fast track of private policy change compared to the slower track of governmental policy change is therefore proposed and described A number of interesting theoretical and empirical avenues for further research on certification are discussed
