1. The first step in the process of financial accounting is to identify the assets and liabilities of the company. This is done by preparing a balance sheet. The balance sheet is a statement of the company's financial position at a specific point in time. It shows the company's assets on the left side and its liabilities on the right side. The total assets must equal the total liabilities plus the company's equity. The second step is to record the company's transactions. This is done by preparing a journal. The journal is a record of all the company's transactions in chronological order. Each transaction is recorded in a journal entry, which shows the accounts affected and the amount of the transaction. The third step is to post the journal entries to the ledger. The ledger is a record of all the company's accounts. Each account is a T-account, with debits on the left and credits on the right. The fourth step is to prepare a trial balance. The trial balance is a statement that shows the total debits and credits for each account. The total debits must equal the total credits. The fifth step is to prepare financial statements. These include the income statement, the statement of retained earnings, and the balance sheet. The income statement shows the company's revenues and expenses for a period of time. The statement of retained earnings shows the changes in the company's retained earnings over time. The balance sheet shows the company's assets and liabilities at a specific point in time.

EBOOK: Financial Accounting (GE), 8e Robert Libby, Frank Hodge, Patricia Libby, 2016-04-16 EBOOK Financial Accounting GE 8e     Study Guide for Use with Financial Accounting Robert Libby, Patricia A. Libby, Daniel G. Short, 2003 Libby Libby Short wrote this text based on their belief that the subject of financial accounting is inherently interesting but financial accounting textbooks are often not. They believe most financial accounting textbooks fail to demonstrate that accounting is an exciting field of study and one that is important to future careers in business. When writing this text they considered career relevance as their guide when selecting material and the need to engage the student as their guide to style pedagogy and design. Libby Libby Short is the only financial accounting text to successfully implement a real world single focus company approach in every chapter. Students and instructors have responded very favorably to the use of focus companies and the real world financial statements. The companies chosen are engaging and the decision making focus shows the relevance of financial accounting regardless of whether or not the student has chosen to major in accounting.

Telecourse Guide for Accounting in Action Robert Libby, Daniel G. Short, Patricia Libby, 2003-03-13     Fundamentals of Financial Accounting Fred Phillips, Shana Clor-Proell, Robert Libby, Patricia A. Libby, 2024 In response to feedback and guidance from numerous financial accounting faculty the authors have made many important changes in the eighth edition of Fundamentals of Financial Accounting including the following: Integrated examples, stories and problems involving real companies familiar to students: Alphabet, Apple, Domino's, Pizza, Garmin, Meta, Sonos, Zumiez and so on. Reviewed, updated and introduced new end of chapter material in each chapter to support topics and learning objectives. Expanded the accounting equation graphic starting in Chapter 3 to distinguish temporary income statement accounts and to illustrate that they are closed later to Retained Earnings (RE). Expanded the number and type of auto graded Data Analytics Exercises in Connect to align with CPA Evolution Core learning objectives: data visualization, interpretation, analysis and communication in Module 8 Topics 5, 6. New Chapter Supplement 1A presents a framework for selecting appropriate data visualizations and is supported by new You Be the Boss data visualization exercises relevant to all business majors.     Study Guide to Accompany
