

BASIC GASKET APPLICATION GUIDE & MATERIAL SELECTION

Application / Function

Primary gaskets are generally used to seal and support the flange, the combination of both ends is a flange to allow installation. These consist of a gasket and a flange seal. Flange is a groove with an application on all flanges. High compressions used to increase the quality. A gasket is used to maintain the pressure in a system and to prevent leakage throughout the life cycle application. The gasket compresses the two components between the mating surfaces of the system. This is done by creating a sealant layer or compression the gasket against the mating surfaces between the mating surfaces. If the gasket creates a sealant layer for a gasket and is compressed through the life of the application then it would be used for a gasket.

In order to determine the application requirements will require the gasket designer to determine the gasket to select a correct seal. Every gasket application or design has many considerations that must be addressed to ensure the performance of what the gasket is required to do.
