Consumer Buying Behaviour Wanchat Kengthon,2011-01-19 Essay from the year 2010 in the subject Economics Micro economics language English abstract A company may think that if it can provide the perfect product to the customers they will buy it Many customers are brand loyalty therefore sometimes the good products cannot be competing with the good brand However factors influencing consumer behaviour is not only the product itself but also advertising which can be one of the most important factors affected purchasing decision Typically every company realise an essential of advertising as it is shown in the profit and loss statement Moreover it is noticeable that budget for advertising always high It is well known fact that advertising plays an important role in people s daily lives The advertising is available anywhere both inside and outside home Recent research suggests that people spend two and a half hours on average watching television Livingstone and Bovill 1999 cited Dickinson 2000 This essay critically analyses and evaluates the major factors that could affect consumer buying behaviour Nevertheless I would like to base my overall main points on advertising as the major factors which would makes it a lot easier and I could focus on this scenario and hopefully answer all my questions Throughout this essay the term of advertising covers all media for instance television radio newspaper direct mail yellow pages magazine billboards leaflets and even on film Perreault and McCarthy 1999 p 450 This essay is divided into three sections Firstly it will look at what consumer behaviour is I will analyse and evaluate the major factors Secondly it will discuss the importance of the advertising show my understanding and explain why it is important to successful marketing I will thirdly analyse the consumers attitude and advertising Finally this review will mention about advertising influences consumers buying food Also identify and evaluate key differences between organisational and consumer purchasing and discuss their implications for marketers Fiber board coffins on the Swedish funeral market. Target Costing and Co-Creation Anna Lena Bischoff,2016-04-11 Seminar paper from the year 2016 in the subject Business economics Offline Marketing and Online Marketing grade 1 7 Linnaeus University Business and Economics course Innovation through Business Engineering and Design language English abstract This report discusses the concept of fiber board coffins on the Swedish market from the perspective of target costing as well as co creation The main method used to derive the empirical findings was a focus group This report is the third report in a series where the product of fiber board coffins was developed from initial design stage to engineering phase and finally this business report Due to the shift from a company centric view to a customer centric view on the market place companies need to adapt their strategies when launching a new product to make sure they offer an added value to the customer Target costing considers the customer centric view by setting a price first and then deriving the placement of costs Distribution of costs is done by seeking the customer s opinion and asking for what is important to them in the product The report describes how the target price was set and costs distributed to reach a satisfactory product for both the client and the company Besides costs consumer behavior and customer value influence how the product should be marketed Two main areas influence the consumer when purchasing a product macro external and micro internal factors It was found that the macro factors play an important role when setting boundaries to the product whereas the micro factors can be used to place the product and derive a unique selling proposition The consulted focus group showed clear results The three most important factors in the purchase of a coffin are price color and sustainability From all the insights mentioned above an advertisement of a catalogue was developed and the conclusion reflects the concept how to market it and what could be a motivation to purchase it Journal of Agricultural and Applied Economics ,1999 Sessional Papers Great Britain.
