Ziegler, 1991 The frame story a series of stories presented within a narrative has been a staple in the catalog of literary genres ever since people started to tell tales It enables the writer to integrate a wealth of heterogeneous material and to comment on contemporary events as well German writers of the Romantic period such as Achim von Arnim in Der Wintergarten 1809 and E T A Hoffmann in Die Serapionsbrüder 1818 21 followed Goethe in his expansion of the frame and began to experiment with the genre making the first significant changes to the structure of the frame story in several hundred years Written early in his career Arnim's work has never received the attention it deserves It provides us with an early example of tendencies that became important in his later work such as the manner in which he adapted sources from the past for the present His frame characters try to confront the reality of the Napoleonic wars and their significance for the Germans Unlike Arnim's Der Wintergarten Hoffmann's Serapionsbrüder was written near the end of his life In the frame conversations Hoffmann set down some of his final commentaries on major issues in German Romanticism madness the problems of the artist and extrasensory phenomena Consequently the frame is an important and previously neglected interpretative resource not only for the inner stories here but also for the major works of both Arnim and Hoffmann Vickie L Ziegler examines these two cyclical narratives that are representative of two traditions Arnim of Goethe's and Hoffmann of Tieck's and then studies the interaction between the frames and the inner stories She demonstrates by means of strict and detailed textual analysis that there are significant linkages of meaning among the frame discourses and inner narratives Written primarily for scholars of the late eighteenth and nineteenth century German literature this learned and perceptive volume will also interest students of comparative literature and medievalism
