Rewriting the North Chloe Ashbridge, 2023-05-15 This book shows how twenty first century writing about Northern England imagines alternative democratic futures for the region and the English nation signalling the growing awareness of England as a distinct and variegated political formation In 2016 the Brexit vote intensified ongoing constitutional tensions throughout the UK which have been developing since the devolution of Scotland Wales and Northern Ireland in 1997 At the same time British devolution developed a distinctively cultural registration as a surrogate for parliamentary representation and an attempt to disrupt the status of London as Britain s cultural epicentre Rewriting the North shifts this debate in a new direction examining Northern literary preoccupation with devolution s constitutional implications Through close readings of six contemporary authors Sunjeev Sahota Sarah Hall Anthony Cartwright Adam Thorpe Fiona Mozley and Sarah Moss this book argues that literary engagement with the North emphasises regional devolution s limited constitutional charge calling instead for an urgent abandonment of the British centralised state form

Domestic Modernism, the Interwar Novel, and E.H. Young Chiara Briganti, Kathy Mezei, 2016-12-05 Domestic Modernism the Interwar Novel and E H Young provides a valuable analytical model for reading a large body of modernist works by women who have suffered not only from a lack of critical attention but from the assumption that experimental modernist techniques are the only expression of the modern In the process of documenting the publication and reception history of E H Young's novels the authors suggest a paradigm for analyzing the situation of women writers during the interwar years Their discussion of Young in the context of both canonical and noncanonical writers challenges the generic label and literary status of the domestic novel as well as facile assumptions about popular and middlebrow fiction canon formation aesthetic value and modernity The authors also make a significant contribution to discussions of the everyday and to the burgeoning field of homeculture as they show that the fictional embodiment and inscription of home by writers such as Young Virginia Woolf Elizabeth Bowen Ivy Compton Burnett Lettice Cooper E M Delafield Stella Gibbons Storm Jameson and E Arnot Robertson epitomize the long standing symbiosis between architecture and literature or more specifically between the house and the novel

The Constitution of English Literature Michael Gardiner, 2013-07-18 In this extended essay Michael Gardiner examines the ideology of the discipline of English Literature in the light of the serious redefining work on England and Englishness that has been conducted in Political Studies in the last decade He argues that English Literature emerges from the development of the state and that consequently it has suppressed the idea of the nation His claim is that English Literature has lost its form since its methodology and canonicity depended so heavily on a constitutional form which can no longer be defended He calls upon those working in English Literature to recognise that they are not really participating in the same discipline defined by the Burkean constitutional settlement even if they think of themselves as writing within the canon His view is that a lack of appreciation of hard edged political factors have led to a continuant and regressive form of English Literature which tends to hang on to stifling methodologies In its place he appeals for the creation of a more open ended inclusive internationalist and comparative literature of England
