Heritage and School Language Literacy Development in Migrant Children Raphael Berthele, Amelia Lambelet, 2017-11-15 This book discusses literacy development in heritage language speakers and presents the results of four different quantitative studies that investigate the transfer of literacy skills in bi and multilingual language development The empirical studies focus on different populations of pupils most of them located in various parts of Switzerland and emphasise the potential residing in shared or transferred resources between their heritage languages and the languages spoken in the region to which their family has immigrated The goal of all studies was to gain an understanding of the factors both linguistic and non linguistic in nature that contribute to the development of language skills in both the heritage and school languages Theoretical assumptions are put to the test via hypothesis testing and the generally shared assumptions on bilingual education are questioned based on the data Furthermore methodological problems in the investigation of linguistic interdependence are discussed This book contributes to the scholarly investigation of potential beneficial effects in academic proficiency across languages in migrant children

Global Portuguese Luiz Paulo Moita-Lopes, 2014-12-17 This book aims at deconstructing and problematizing linguistic ideologies related to Portuguese in late modernity and questioning the theoretical presuppositions which have led us to call Portuguese a language Such an endeavor is crucial when we know that Portuguese is a language which is increasingly internationalized used as the official language in four continents in ten countries and which has come to play a relevant role in the so called linguistic market on the basis of the geopolitical transformations in a multipolar world The book covers a wide range of social political and historical contexts in which Portuguese is used in Brazil Canada East Timor England Portugal Mozambique and Uruguay and considers diverse linguistic practices Through this critique contributors chart new directions for research on language ideologies and language practices including research related to Portuguese and to other languages and consider ways of developing new conceptual compasses that are better attuned to the sociolinguistic realities of the late modern era in which people texts and languages are increasingly in movement through national borders and those of digital networks of communication
