Reconciling Different Concepts Of Risk And Vulnerability:

Governing Failure Jacqueline Best,2014-01-09 Jacqueline Best argues that the 1990s changes in IMF World Bank and donor policies towards what some have called the Post Washington Consensus were driven by an erosion of expert authority and an increasing preoccupation with policy failure Failures such as the Asian financial crisis and the decades of despair in sub Saharan Africa led these institutions to develop governance strategies designed to avoid failure fostering country ownership developing global standards managing risk and vulnerability and measuring results In contrast to the structural adjustment era when policymakers were confident in their solutions this is an era of provisional governance in which key actors are aware of the possibility of failure even as they seek to inoculate themselves against it Best considers the implications of this shift asking if it is a positive change and whether it is sustainable This title is available as Open Access on Cambridge Books Online and via Knowledge Unlatched

Reducing Global Poverty Caroline O.N. Moser,2008-06-01 A daunting challenge to the international community is how to go about lifting the world s huge poor population out of poverty Asset based approaches to development are aimed specifically at designing and implementing public policies that will increase the capital assets of the poor i e the physical financial human social and natural resources that can be acquired developed improved and transferred across generations In this pathbreaking book Caroline Moser and a group of experts with on the ground experience provide a set of case studies of asset building projects around the globe The authors use a cutting edge research framework that moves beyond quick snapshot solutions to the problem of poverty They highlight the ways in which poor households and communities can move out of poverty through longer term accumulation of capital assets Contributors include Michael Carter University of Wisconsin Monique Cohen Microfinance Opportunities Sarah Cook Institute of Development Studies Sussex Hector Cordero Guzman Baruch College CUNY Lilianne Fan Oxfam UK Pablo Farias Ford Foundation New York Clare Ferguson formerly DFID Andy Felton FDIC Sarah Gammage Rutgers University Anirudh Krishna Duke University Amy Liu Brookings Institution Vijay Mahajan BASIX India Paula Nimpuno Parente Ford Foundation South Africa Manuel Orozco Inter American Dialogue Victoria Quiroz Becerra Baruch College CUNY Dennis Rodgers London School of Economics and Andres Solimano CEPAL Santiago Chile

Human Rights, Race, and Resistance in Africa and the African Diaspora Toyin Falola,Cacee Hoyer,2016-10-04 Africans and their descendants have long been faced with abuse of their human rights most frequently due to racism or racialized issues Consequently understanding shifting conceptualizations of race and identity is essential to understanding how people of color confronted these encounters This book addresses these issues and their connections to social justice discrimination and equality movements From colonial abuses or their legacies black people around the world have historically encountered discrimination and yet they do not experience injustice opaquely The chapters in this book explore and clarify how Africans and their descendants struggled to achieve agency despite long histories of discrimination Contributors draw upon a range of case studies related to resistance and examine these in conjunction with human rights and the concept of race to provide a thorough exploration of the diasporic experience Human Rights Race and Resistance in Africa and the African Diaspora will appeal to students and scholars of Ethnic and Racial Studies African History and Diaspora Studies Discussion Paper, 2007 OECD Journal on Development, 2009

Handbook on Urban Social Policies Kazepov, Yuri, Barberis, Eduardo, Cucca, Roberta, Mocca, Elisabetta, 2022-07-22 The importance of subnational welfare measures and their complex embeddedness in wider multilevel governance systems has often been underplayed in both urban studies and social policy analysis This Handbook gives readers the analytical tools to understand urban social policies in context and bridges the gap in research Vulnerability and Social Protection in Malawi, 2007 Assets, Livelihoods, and Social Policy Caroline O. N. Moser, Anis Ahmad Dani, 2008 Given the pervasiveness of the informal sector and the lack of adequate universal safety nets livelihoods of the poor depend heavily on their ability to access and accumulate assets obtain decent returns on those assets and use their asset base to manage risks The papers in this volume discuss the strategies adopted by people to accumulate assets through migration housing investments natural resources management and informal businesses and consider how an asset based social policy could enable those strategies or help them overcome the constraints of an unfavorable institutional environment Harmony and Reconciliation in Christianity and Daoism Michael M. Tophoff, 2025-10-30 This study presents an analytical investigation of the Christian concept of reconciliation and the Daoist concept of harmony It poses the question whether Christian reconciliation and Daoist harmony could be operationalized in ways to ease human suffering caused by interpersonal intergroup national and international conflicts Social Security/social Protection in Nepal Dilli Raj Khanal, 2013 Reviews a profile of existing systems mechanisms and schemes related to social security social protection in Nepal's formal and informal economies This analysis provides challenges and discussions for a coherent national strategy for extending social security coverage in horizontal and vertical dimensions Family Farming and the Worlds to Come Jean-Michel Sourisseau, 2014-11-05 What is family farming How can it help meet the challenges confronting the world How can it contribute to a sustainable and more equitable development Not only is family farming the predominant form of agriculture around the world especially so in developing countries it is also the agriculture of the future By declaring 2014 the International Year of Family Farming the United Nations has placed this form of production at the center of debates on agricultural development These debates are often reduced to two opposing positions The first advocates the development of industrial or company agriculture supposedly efficient because it follows industrial processes for market oriented mass production The second promotes the preservation of family farming with its close links between family and farm The authors of this book wish to enrich the debates by helping overcome stereotypes which often manifest through the use of terms such as small scale farming subsistence farming peasant etc Research work has emphatically demonstrated the great adaptability of family farming systems and their ability to meet the major challenges of tomorrow but it has also not overlooked their limitations The authors explore the choices facing society and possible development trajectories at national and international levels and the contribution that agriculture will have to make They call for a recommitment of public policies in favor of family farming in developing countries and stress the importance of planning actions targeted at and tailored to the family character of agricultural models But above all they highlight the need to overcome strictly sectoral rationales by placing family farming at the core of a broader economic and social project This book is the result of a collaborative effort led by CIRAD and encapsulates three decades of research on family farming It will interest researchers teachers and students and all those involved in national and international efforts for the development of countries in the South South Carolina
