Leadership Through Story Sarah J. Noonan, Thomas L. Fish, 2007 Stories ancient as life itself and deeply embedded within family and cultural traditions transmit knowledge and shared meaning linking people together in a human chain of history and memory Leadership through Story offers a way for leaders and members followers to understand and experience the way a powerful story when shared with others serves as both a catalyst and vehicle to accomplish leadership. Leaders and members tell stories to achieve goals, experience compassion, manage change, solve problems, and/or promote social justice in democratic communities. To utilize stories to their fullest, leaders need to be aware of how the mutual exchange of stories and the meaning created from this exchange promotes the changes we seek within and among us. Listening to diverse voices and locating turning points in dialogue places where we are influenced and changed by others inspires moral imagination and commitment, altering our lives together. In this way, storytelling and dialogue serve as a foundation for personal and social transformation, as well as cultural survivance in human communities. Crossing Borders in Victorian Travel Barbara Franchi, Elvan Mutlu, 2018-04-18

How did Victorian travellers define and challenge the notion of Empire? How did the multiple forms of Victorian travel literature, such as fiction, travel accounts, newspapers, and poetry, shape perceptions of imperial and national spaces in the British context and beyond? This collection examines how, in the Victorian era, space and empire were shaped around the notion of boundaries by travel narratives and practices, and from a variety of methodological and critical perspectives. From the travel writings of artists and polymaths such as Carmen Sylva and Richard Burton to a reassessment of Rudyard Kipling's H. G. Wells's and Julia Pardoe's cross-cultural and cross-gender travels, this collection assesses a broad range of canonical and lesser-studied Victorian travel texts and genres, and evaluates the representation of empires, nations, and individual identity in travel accounts covering Europe, Asia, Africa, and Britain. Data Book of Social Studies Materials and Resources, 1989
