It argues that a Gaian approach to the ecological crisis involves rebalancing human and more than human influences on Earth by reviving the ecological agency of local and indigenous human communities and of nonhuman beings. Present day human ecological influences on Earth have been growing at pace since the Scientific and Industrial Revolutions when modern humans adopted a machine cosmology in which humans are the sole intelligent agency. The resultant imbalance between human and Earthly agencies is degrading the species diversity of ecosystems causing local climate changes and threatens to destabilise the Earth as a System. Across eight chapters this ambitious text engages with traditional cosmologies from the Indian Vedas and classical Greece to Medieval Christianity with case material from Southeast Asia, Southern Africa and Great Britain. It discusses concepts such as deep time and ancestral time, the ethics of genetic engineering of foods and viruses and holistic ecological management. Northcott argues that an ontological turn that honours the differential agency of indigenous humans and other kind and that draws on sacred traditions will make it possible to repair the destabilising impacts of contemporary human activities on the Earth System and its constituent ecosystems. This book will be of considerable interest to students and scholars of the environmental humanities, history and cultural and religious studies.
